THEY DIED FOR GOD AND COUNTRY

Amid the hustle of busy Cincinnati at work and at play, stands our Big Red Schoolhouse. There are many big red schoolhouses in the vast stretches of our country, but the loyal students in this Big Red Schoolhouse look upon it as a fortress with sturdy walls of learning. There came a war in 1941, and along with all the other high schools in the country, Hughes sent her share of youth eager for life and leadership. Some managed to return to the halls and classrooms they knew so well; others never lived to see the tower of Hughes rise again above the skyline of a new and free world. War changes people and things. Our school was no exception. New ideas were adopted to cope with wartime means, and new subjects were added to the program of education. But our Big Red Schoolhouse served through the years of strife, and now is changing again to meet the demands of a peace-time world. Inside the thick red walls of our Big Red Schoolhouse there glows a spirit which encourages youth to feats of brawn and brain. Through the years The Big Red Schoolhouse emphasizes spiritual values. It develops good citizens and strengthens home life. It does much to improve the economic well-being and build sound health. It resolutely does its share towards securing and preserving peace. Yes, no matter how old, The Big Red Schoolhouse lives on in American youth, and through these pages the memory of the current generation shall remain a vital episode in its history.

VOLUME XLI

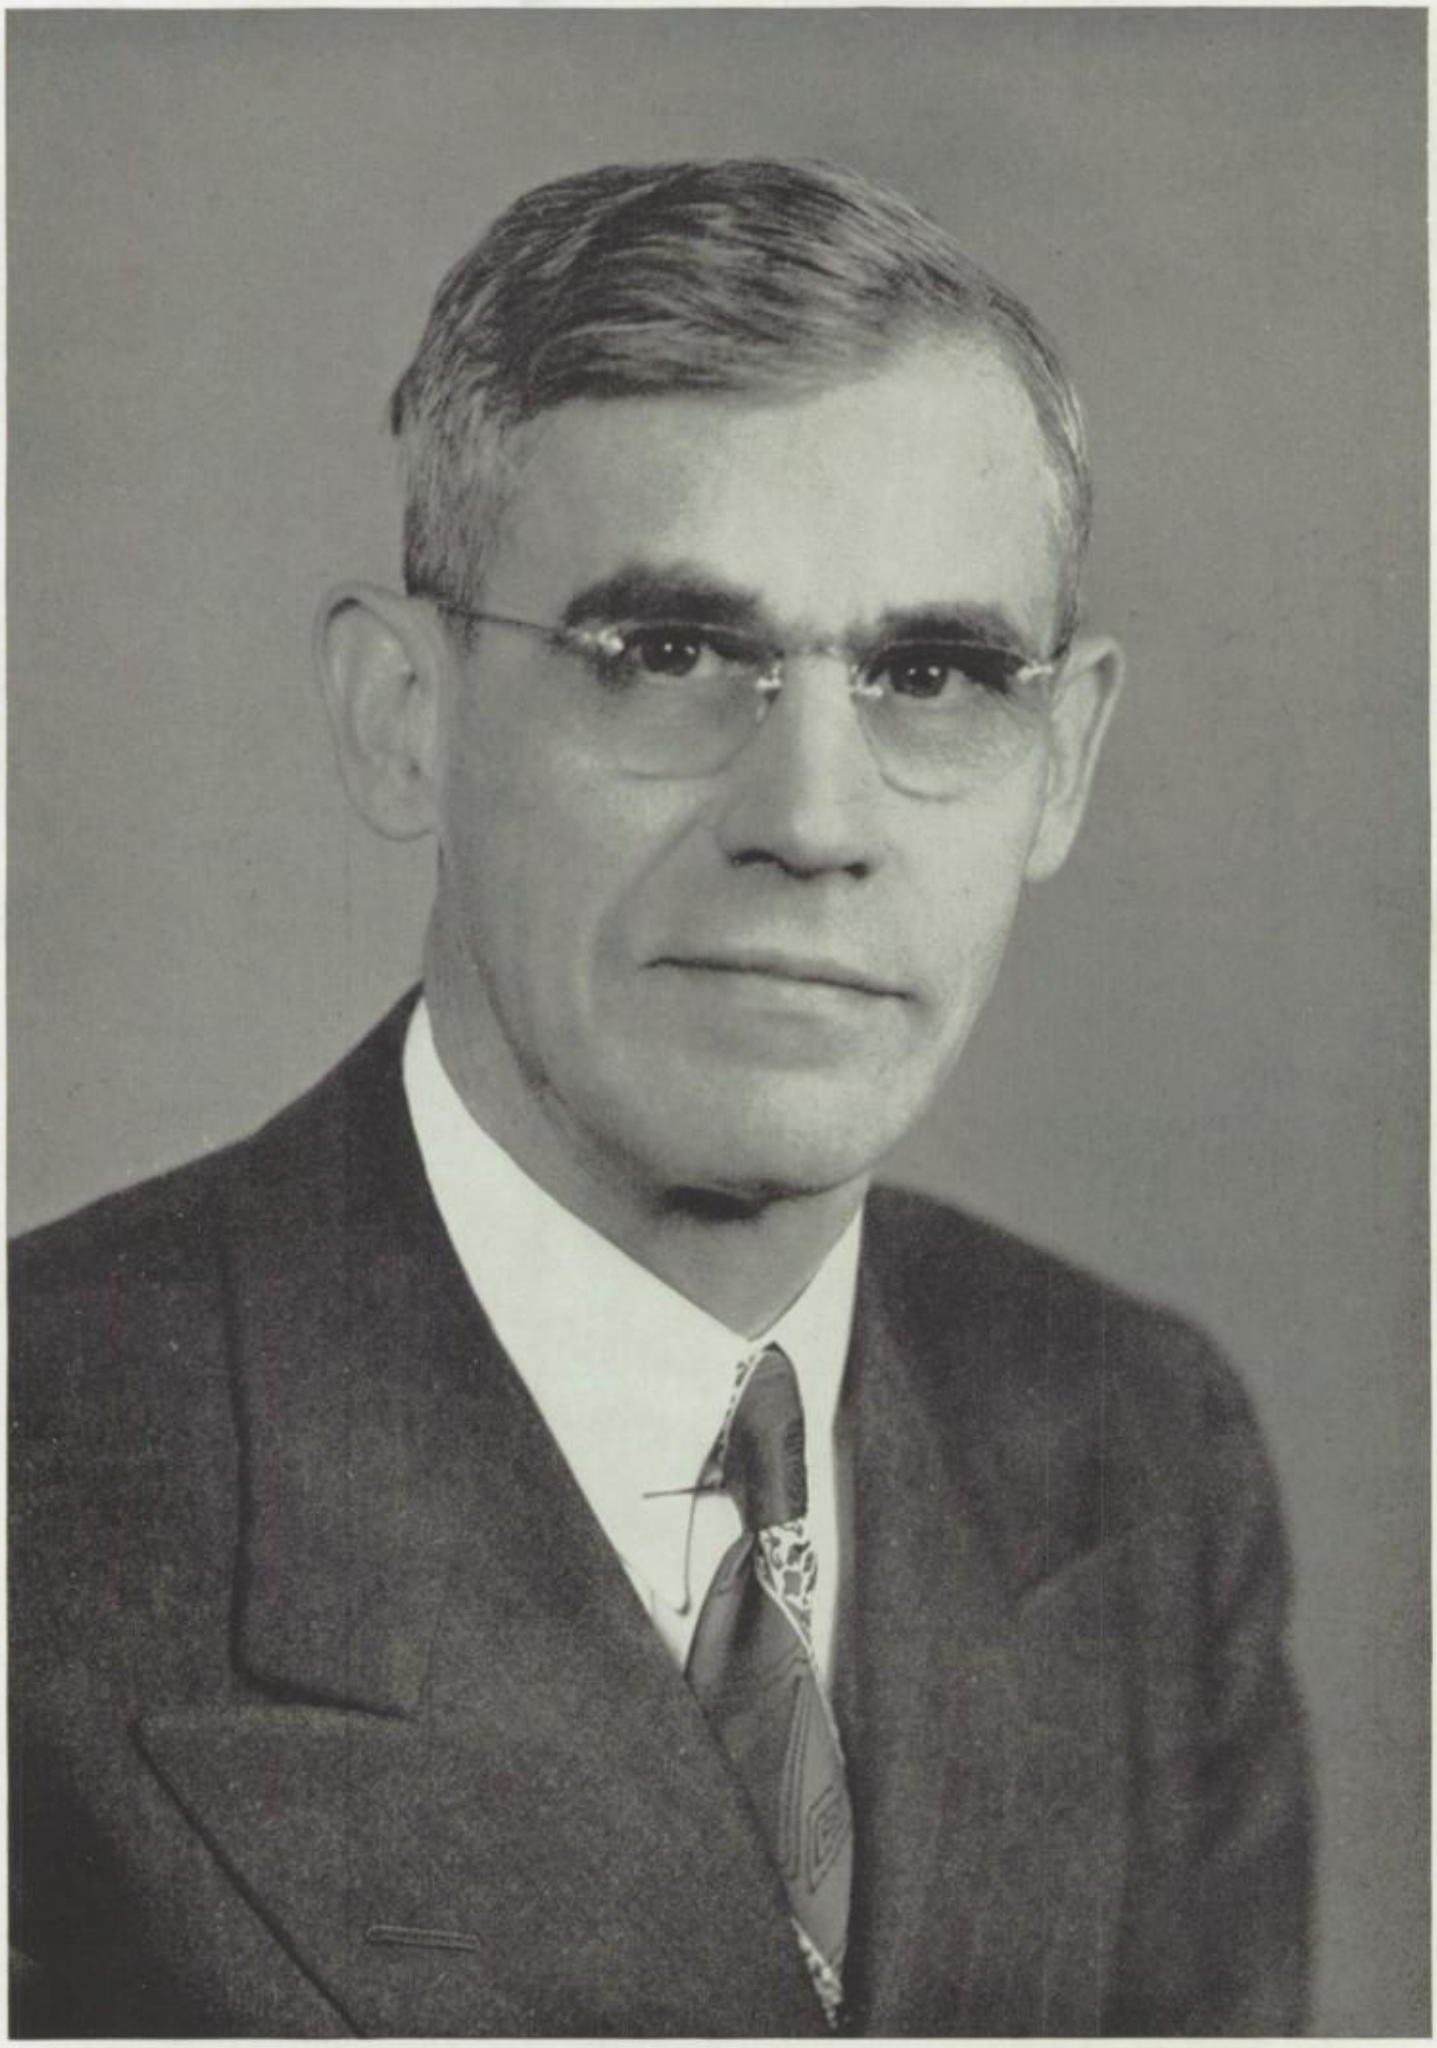
"The Big Red Schoolhouse" is a theme well chosen for your 1946 Annual. Your school, your home and your church form an important triad in the development of good in your life. Briefly, let us consider what contributions the Big Red Schoolhouse of Hughes has made toward this development.

First, in friendship. Here you have met and made new friends. Nothing is more wholesome than the companionship of a friend when this association develops within each the best that is in the other. Around you constantly is the friendship of your teachers. Unfortunate is the teacher who has not found joy in being a friend to his pupils; unfortunate is the pupil, who, along the way, has not felt the friendly touch of some teacher in whom he can confide some of the problems so near to his heart. The classroom, clubs, debates, dramatics and athletics are but a few of the ways to friendship. It is to be hoped you have chosen well your friends.

Your educational development is the second contribution the Big Red Schoolhouse has made to your life. The choice of your subjects, the contacts you have made with pupils and teachers, and the effort you have put forth to learn what man has made possible to you through books, determine, in a great measure, how well you are prepared to meet what lies ahead. Hughes takes the responsibility for this preparation. It takes its share of blame for your failure; it asks for its share of plaudits for your success.

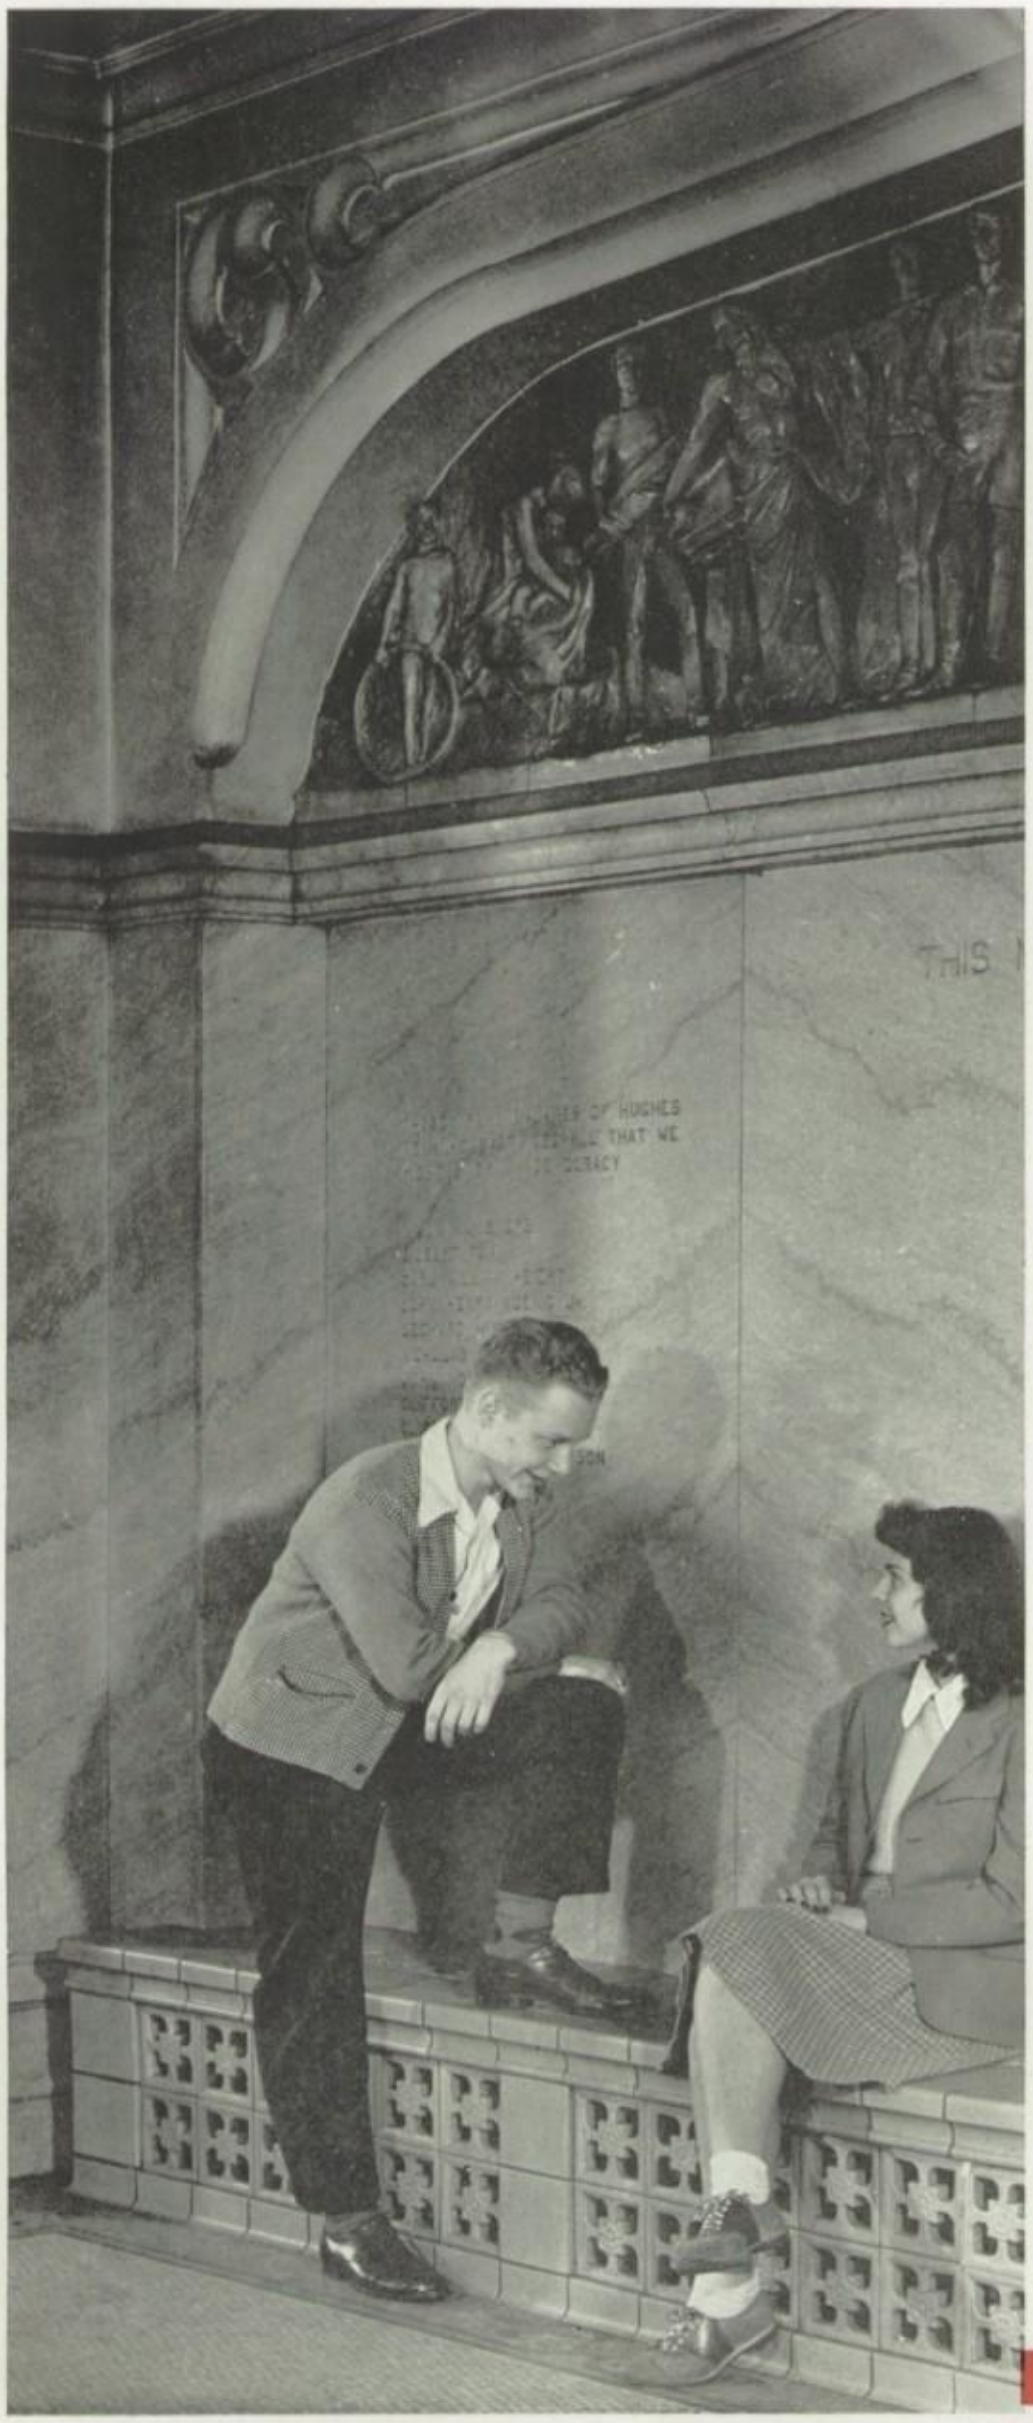
Remember the Big Red Schoolhouse will be here long after you have gone. It is "The American Way" of maintaining our freedom.

Elmer W. Kizer



The Class of 1946 is happy to share in welcoming to Hughes as Principal Mr. E. W. Kizer.

Elmer W. Kizer



The Big Red Schoolhouse stands for youth. Although dignified by the Gothic architecture and mellowed by the sun, wind and rain of the Queen City, Hughes never grows old in spirit. Youth brings to high school their most recent fads and their current talk. They come for education. They leave with the imprint of that education and something more. Maybe that something can be called the idea of a free society. Perhaps a part of it cannot be put into words. Maybe it can be called friendship and understanding blended with fond memories. In it may linger a picture of several students such as Billie Brill and Don Buchman, at left, talking together beneath the frieze of ancient Athens, or Ellen Olmsted pausing in the front hall. Big things and little things, big people and little people are a part of the interesting life at the Big Red Schoolhouse.

Cincinnati was still a young city with traces of the frontier evident in its dusty streets and roughly clad inhabitants. It was doubtlessly a strange place to a poor immigrant cobbler, Thomas Hughes. Its Indians and Conestoga wagons were a far cry from the sights of his native nineteenth century England. The span of his uneventful life was concluded here more than 120 years ago. When Thomas Hughes died he left his entire estate to be used for education in his adopted city. From these beginnings rose our high school. In 1852 the first class graduated from Hughes. It consisted of exactly four students. 1852 found money from the will being used to erect a new building on Fifth Street near Mound. This was supplanted in 1910 by our present Clifton palace. At the time it cost $1,000,000 and held 1500 pupils. With the addition of a new wing in 1925 it was brought up to its present size. That, in short, is how our Big Red Schoolhouse came to be.

Mr. Arthur J. Havlovic is the Assistant Principal at Hughes.

The little red schoolhouse holds its place in the affections of this nation through the memory of great men and women who were trained for useful, honorable lives within its humble walls. There was no magic charm involved, however, in this simplicity. You have been prepared for a more complex world by a modern school. If you live up to your opportunities, future generations of Americans will be grateful, too, for your big red schoolhouse.

A. J. Havlovic

THEY COUNSEL STUDENTS WISELY

The male population of Hughes gets its advice and guidance from Mr. Arthur Havelovic, fondly known as "Gus." With Mr. Clyde Hall, he spends part of each morning admitting boys who have been absent from school. Mr. "Gus" is the able sponsor of the Hughes Club which celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary this year. Several years ago he was succeeded as music director of Hughes by Mr. John Molnar, but he still has his love for music and his skill. Another person who is important about Hughes is Uncle Harry Calvert, our school treasurer. He is often seen dashing from his office to the bank, or cautiously opening the school safe to deposit our pennies.

Miss Florence Wagner is the helpful adviser to freshman girls at Hughes.

Helping the seniors to decide which path to follow after leaving the Big Red Schoolhouse are Miss Busch and Miss Fink, advisers for senior girls, and Mr. Mathis, adviser for senior boys. By finding answers to the myriad question and problems that present themselves to senior girls and boys graduating from high school, these advisers often help determine issues vital to students. At sometime during his senior year, each senior has a conference with his respective adviser about his plans for the coming year. He is counseled on the choice of a college appropriate to the field he intends to make his life work. Since some students are without definite goals, the advisers try to direct them further in the field in which they have been most successful in high school.

Mrs. Elma R. Robinson is the Dean of Girls at Hughes.

Dear Seniors of 1946:

We fondly hope that your Big Red Schoolhouse has given you the urge toward better living that the Little Red Schoolhouse, of the past, gave to countless Americans, in the days when America was younger.

Sincerely,

Elma R. Robinson

Many veterans returning to civilian life desire to complete plans that were interrupted, plans for an education. The Veterans' Center of the Cincinnati Public Schools was established at Hughes to meet such needs. This extensive program for the continued education of returned service men and women provides elementary school, high school, college preparatory, and vocational instruction and coaching to meet individual needs. A go-at-your-own-pace plan permits each veteran to begin where he is and progress at his own maximum rate under tutors. Every effort is made to help the veterans to complete their educational plans as soon as possible.

Mr. George H. Van Ness, Director of Veterans' Education, himself recently returned from service in the Pacific area, is shown in the lower picture helping a veteran plan his work at Hughes, while the secretary, Miss Dorothy Tharp, registers another student enrolling for tutoring. In the group above a number of returned veterans are working in many fields with an instructor ready to help them over the hard spots. In the months since its establishment, attendance at the Veterans' Center has grown by leaps and bounds. Graduation on general tests is based upon the tests prepared and used for this purpose by the United States Armed Forces Institute.

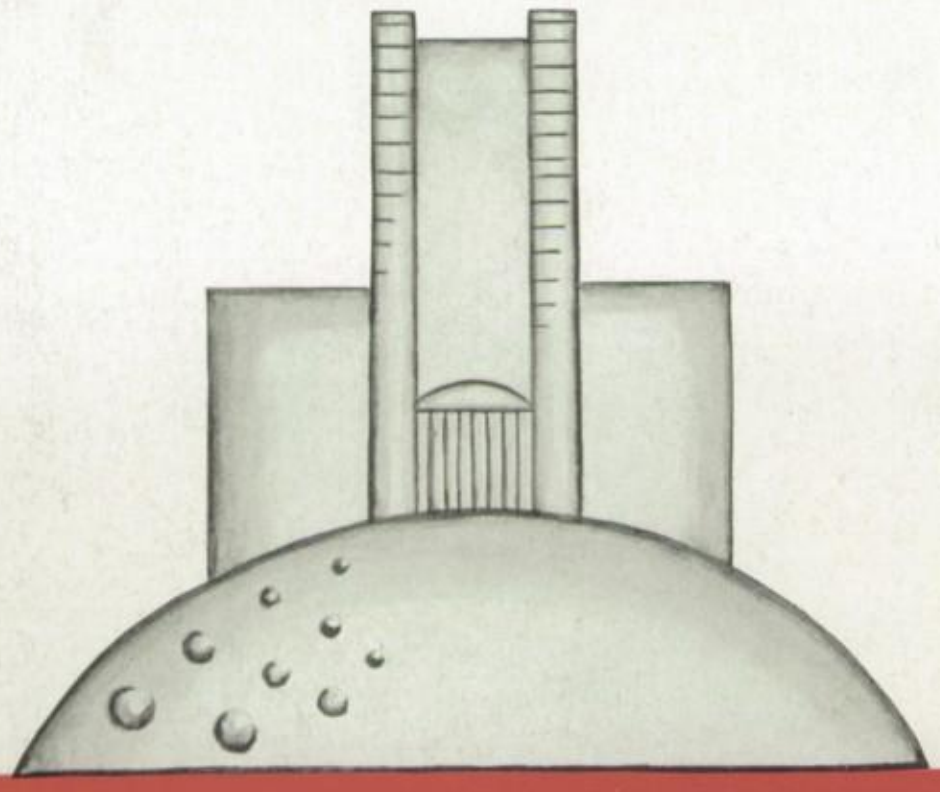
IN BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE WE EXPERIMENT AND LEARN

Geometric figures, equations, chemistry labs, printing presses, a green house, all are features of the 1946 model of the Big Red Schoolhouse. Here more than twenty-five hundred students daily go through a variety of courses which equip them for life in our present disturbed world. Their busy routine, including studies from the classics to physical education, is planned to prepare young men and women for the fields of endeavor confronting them. It is the type of democratic training which gives our youth experience in citizenship in our great republic. Whether going on to college or to work, members of the Big Red Schoolhouse know that they go well equipped with all the benefits of a modern educational system in a modern world.

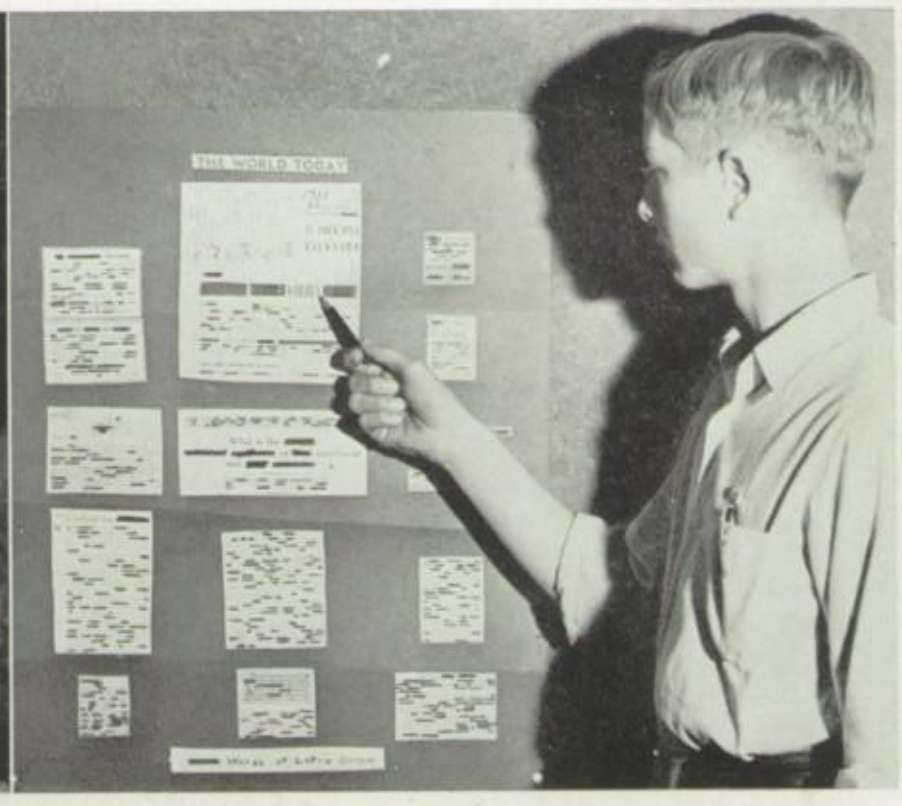


Miss Florence Wagner discusses affairs of freshman girls with Patsy Wiederstein while Alice Forn engages Jo Ann Shafer in map study.

WE READ, WE STUDY, WE GROW

Miss Erna Kruckemeyer holds the attention of her 12th grade English class with her interpretative reading of some poetry that they have already discussed as a group.

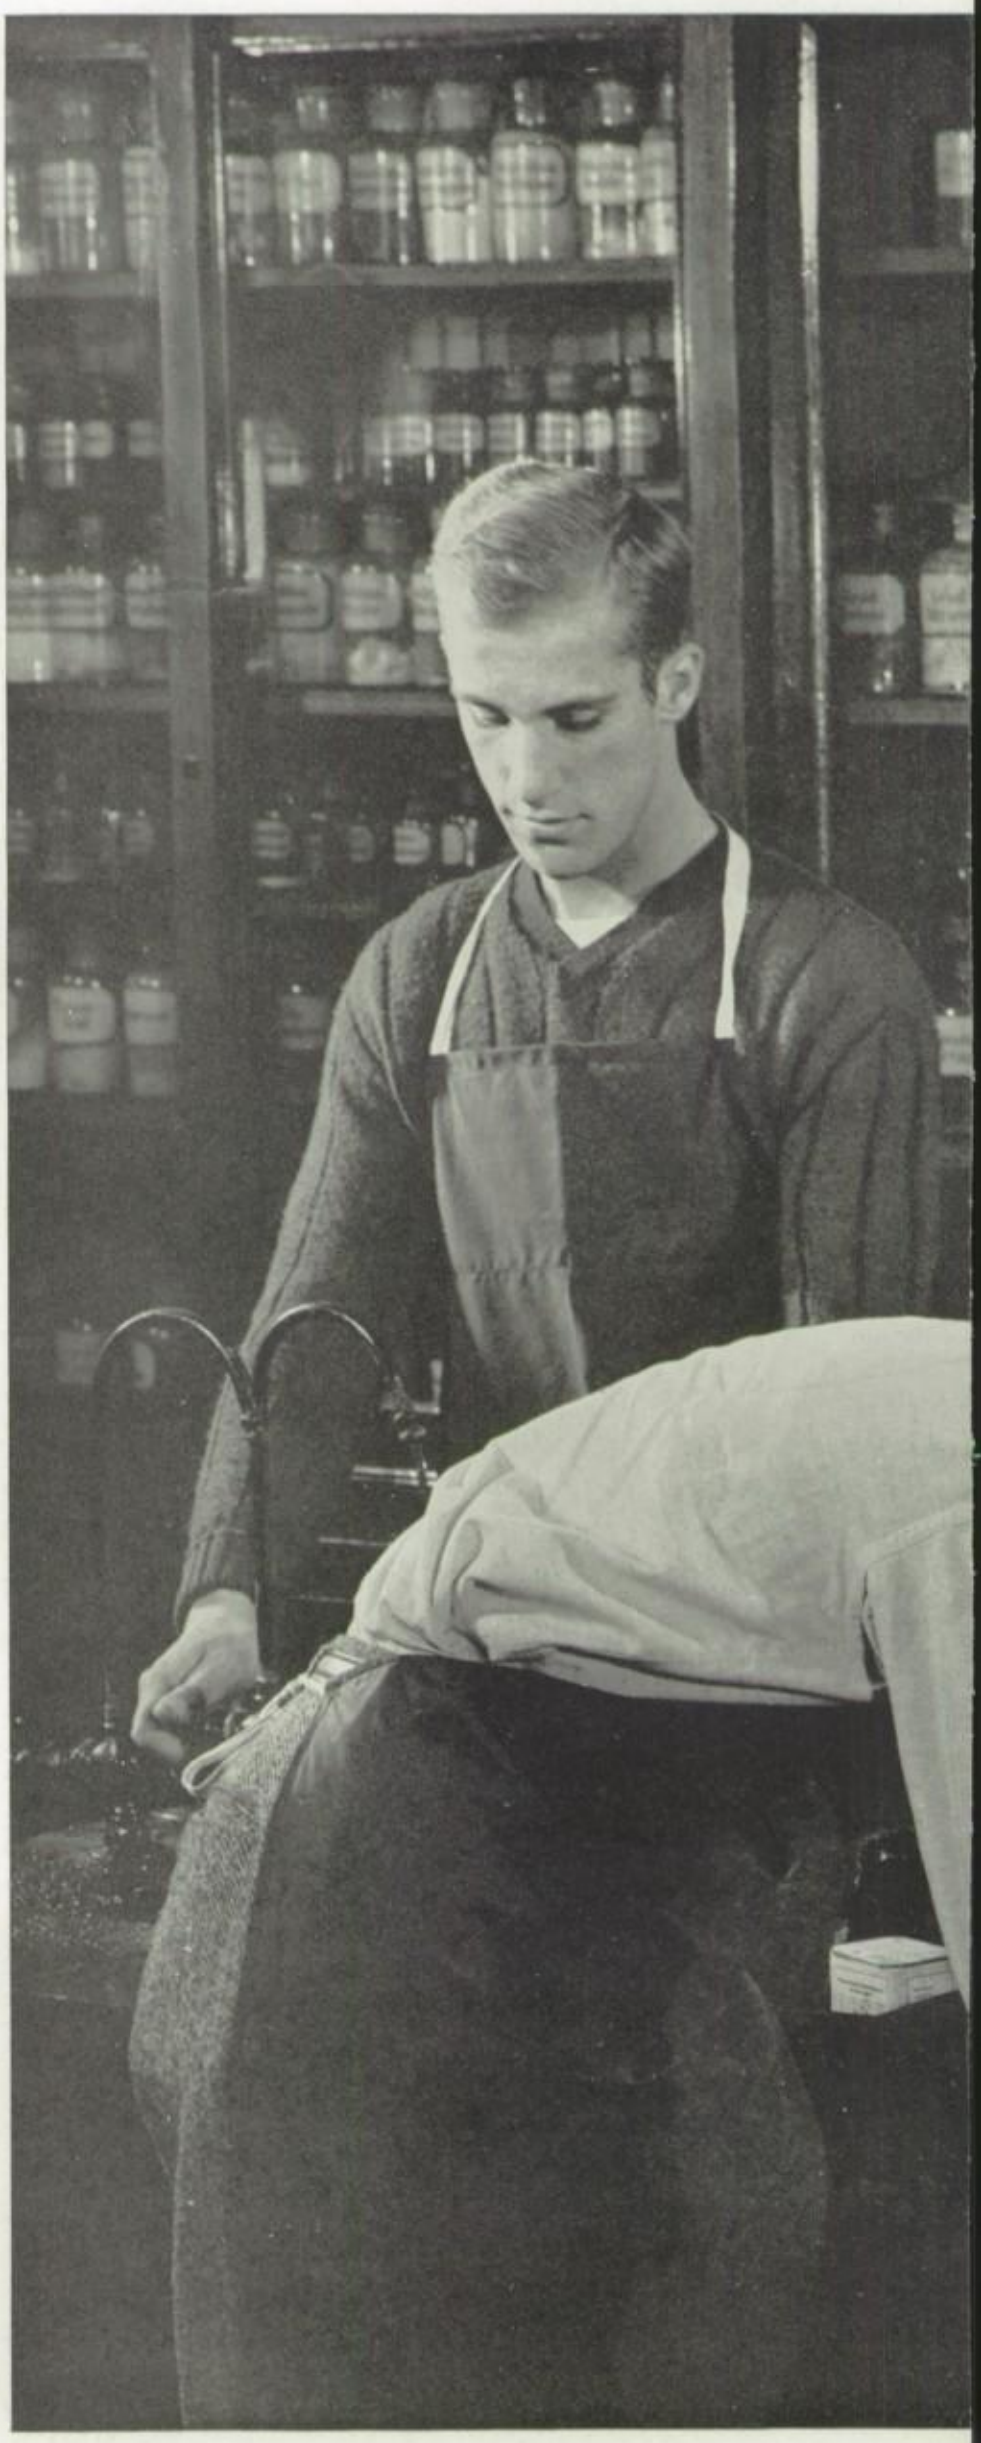
"Pic" Stiegler, at right, proves to his Latin class that twentieth century English depends upon the good old Roman tongue. In the poster all words of Latin origin have been blacked out.

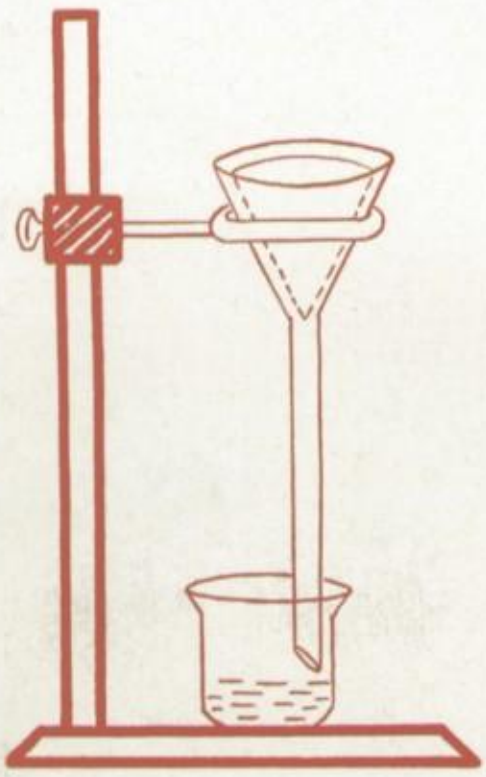


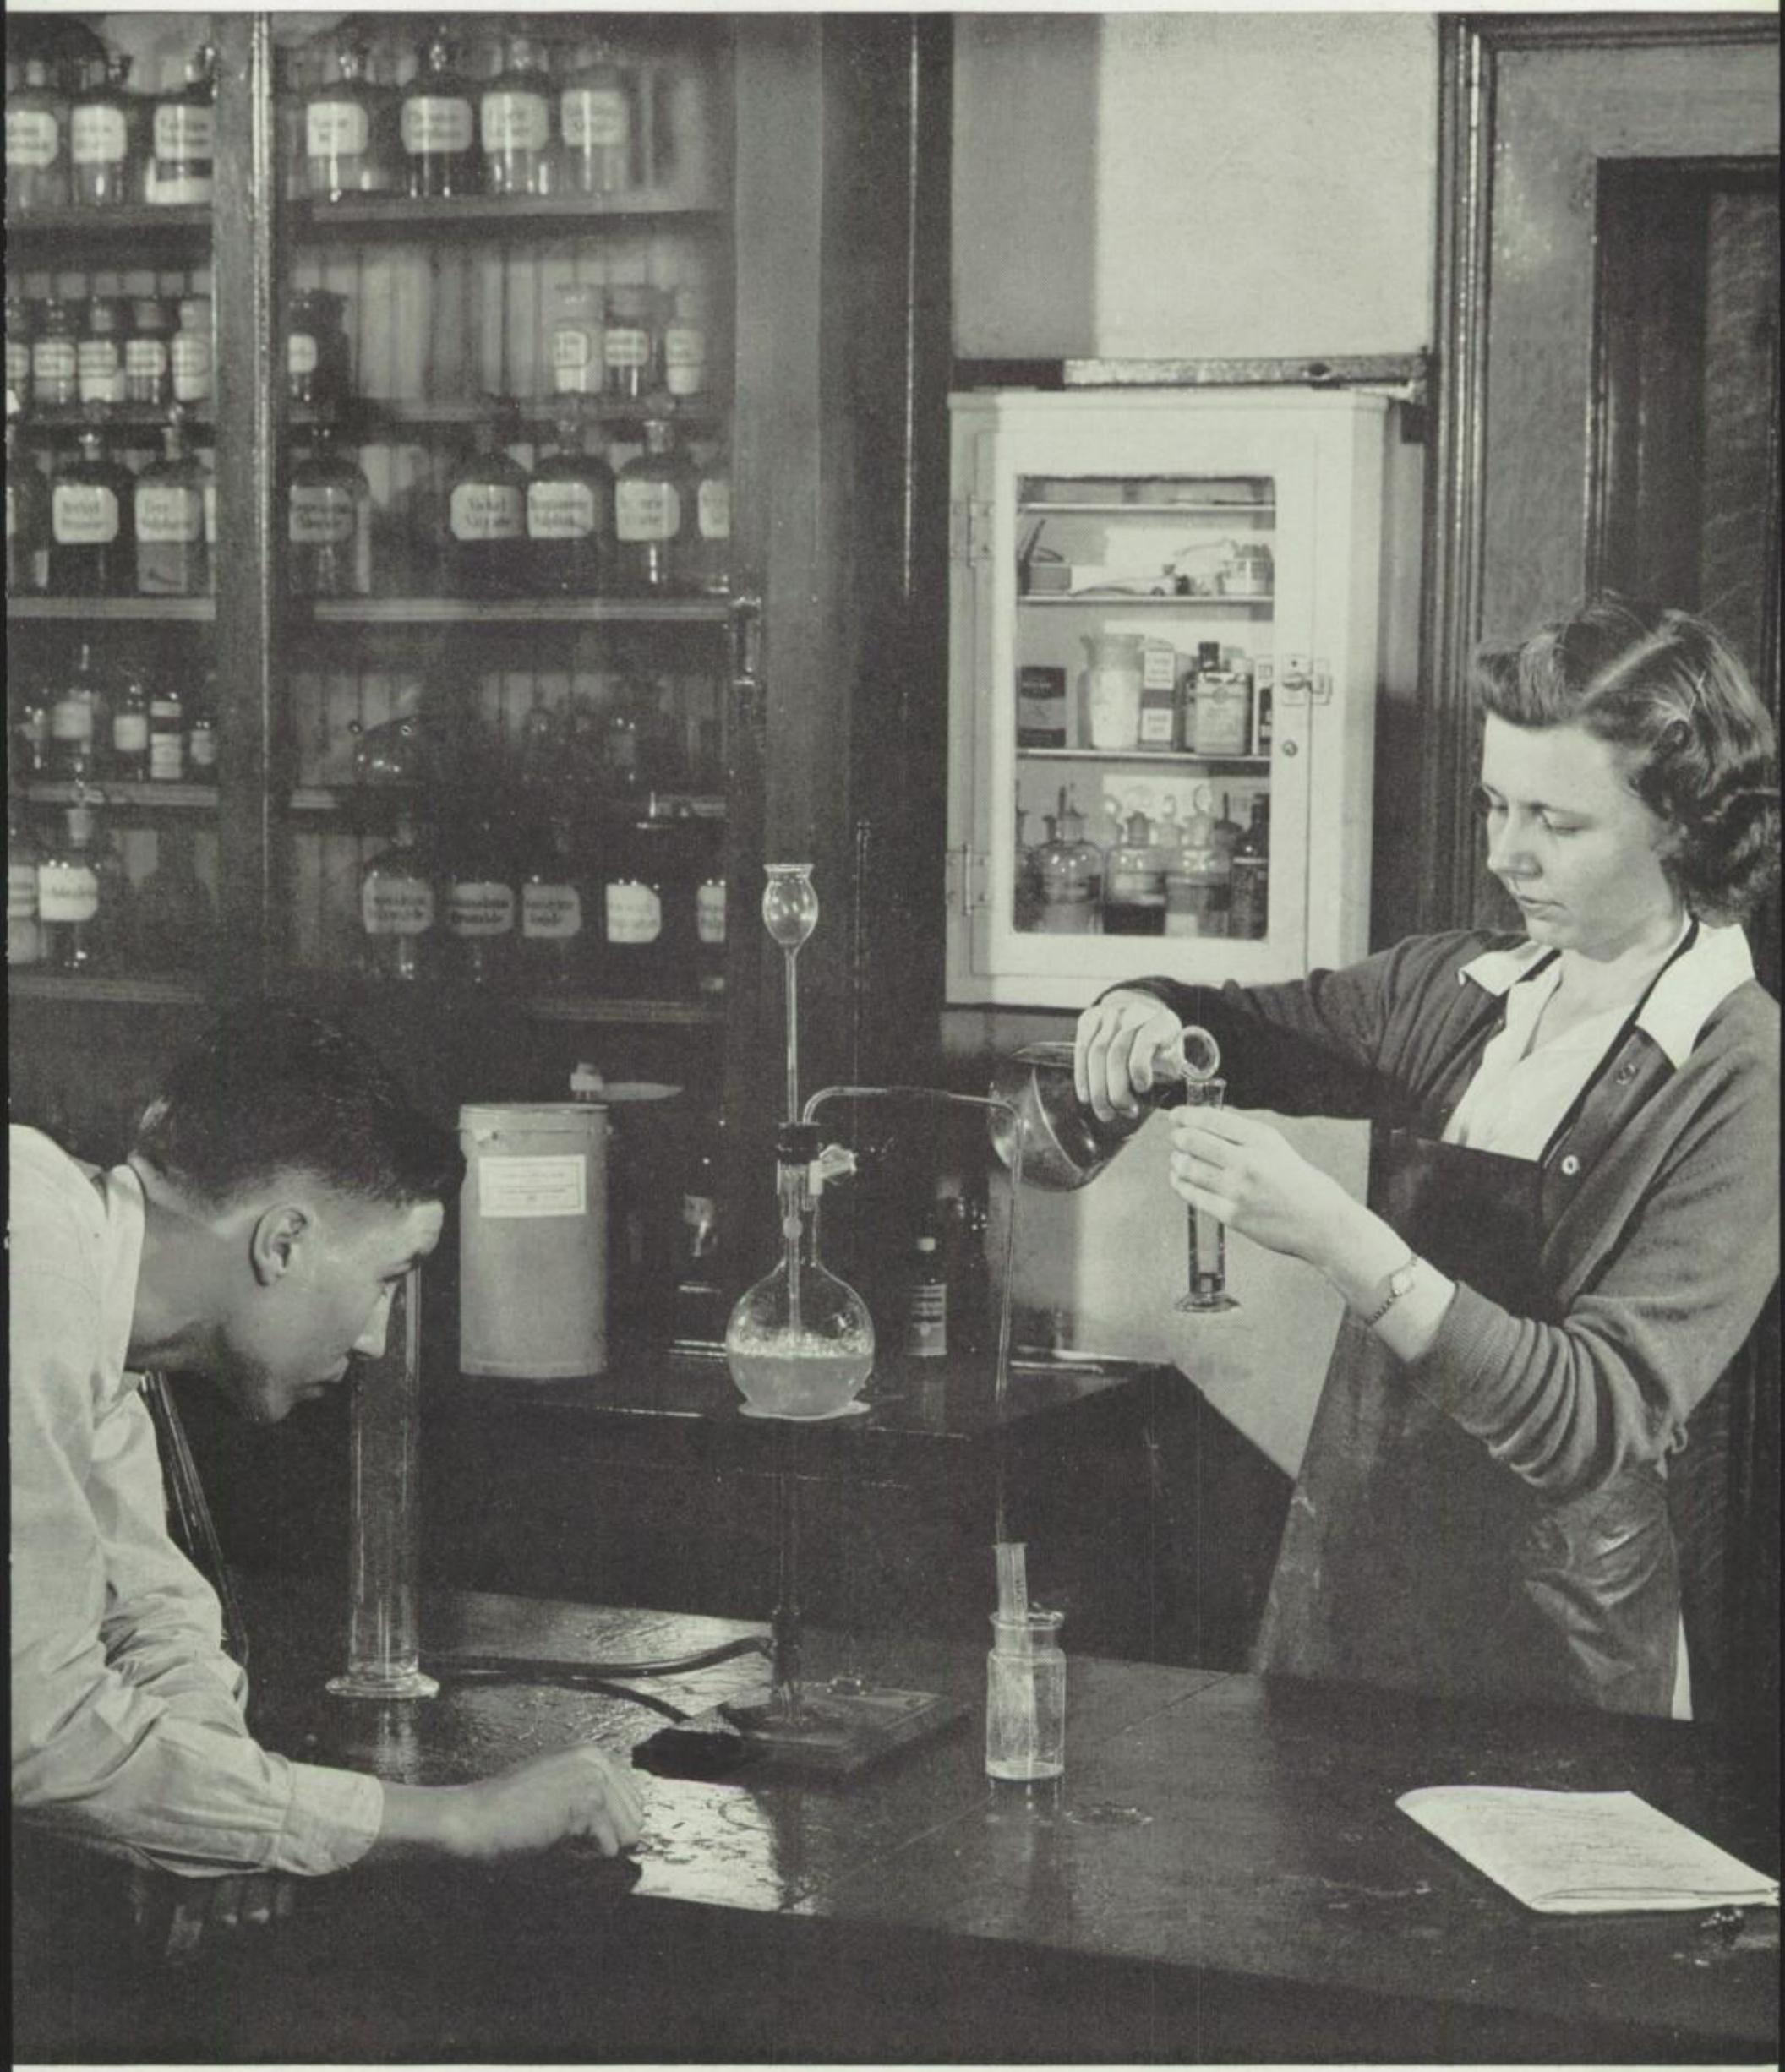
Joanne Elsner, Claire Biederman and Marjorie Price are sewing busily on their new wool skirts. They are three of the many girls in the Home Economics class of Miss Elizabeth Peoples that have aided in making clothing for the Mayor's Christmas Party, for which Hughes assembled a large contribution. These girls also helped Miss Stapleford and Miss Adomeit with the costumes for the Sage production, "Cinderella in Loreland." On the page opposite are these costumes in the making. While Audrey Rowan, who enacted the role of fairy godmother, is intently sewing her own costume, Louise Elkins is adjusting the billowy tulle skirt of Evelyn Carol, one of the fairies in the play. Countless before-hand jobs like this go into the making of a Sages performance.

SOME USE PATTERNS ON CLOTH

The chemistry lab is an interesting place where embryo scientists, atoms, and evil odors meet. Here students can prove by experiment what they learn through printed word in the classroom. In the picture Doreen Lindeman, Ed Wagner, and James Schott are distilling water.



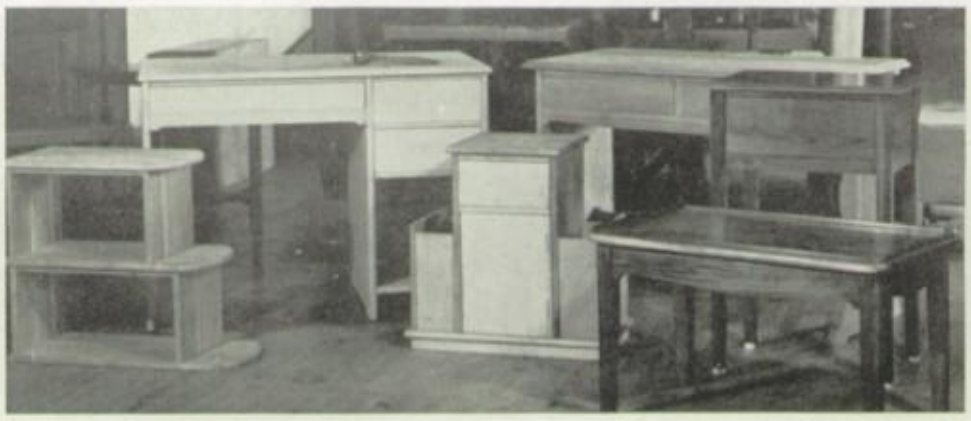




WE WRESTLE WITH FORMULAS

AND PEER INTO MICROSCOPES

Everything from microscopes to plaster of paris is on hand when your Huzite delves into the mysteries of science. To illustrate the first case we have Marilyn Wagner, Martha Wert, and a microscope in the above picture. The girls are examining leaf sections in their botany class with Miss Madeline Harris. This type of study has practical aspects concerning farming, landscaping, and such simpler pastimes as home gardening. At the top of the opposite page a group of ladies are engaged in testing soap. This is part of the work in their Practical Chemistry course, where laboratory supplements classroom teachings. Obviously, Mother's favorite brand of washday suds-maker is being subjected to careful experimentation. Directly below the soap-testers are other practical chemists: George Socol, Ivan Klebanow, and Walter Gray. These fellows are using molds and plaster to cast some statuettes. To the left is a representative of the homemaking science student, Mary Elizabeth Clark, who is baking a luscious loaf for breakfast. Other classwork in Home Economics with Miss Elizabeth Zorn includes such things as knitting and sewing.



Pictured above are desks, tables and stands of cherry, walnut and maple designed, constructed and beautifully finished by boys in the woodworking shop under the direction of Mr. O. E. Weilhamer. At left pupils are turning on wood lathes. Operation of these lathes and other machines provide preparatory experiences for future engineers. Across the page a view of the shop shows boys carrying out the construction of their projects. There is real satisfaction in applying related science and mathematics in a direct practical manner, as well as in creating articles that suit their needs.

WE PLANT, BUILD FOR THE FUTURE

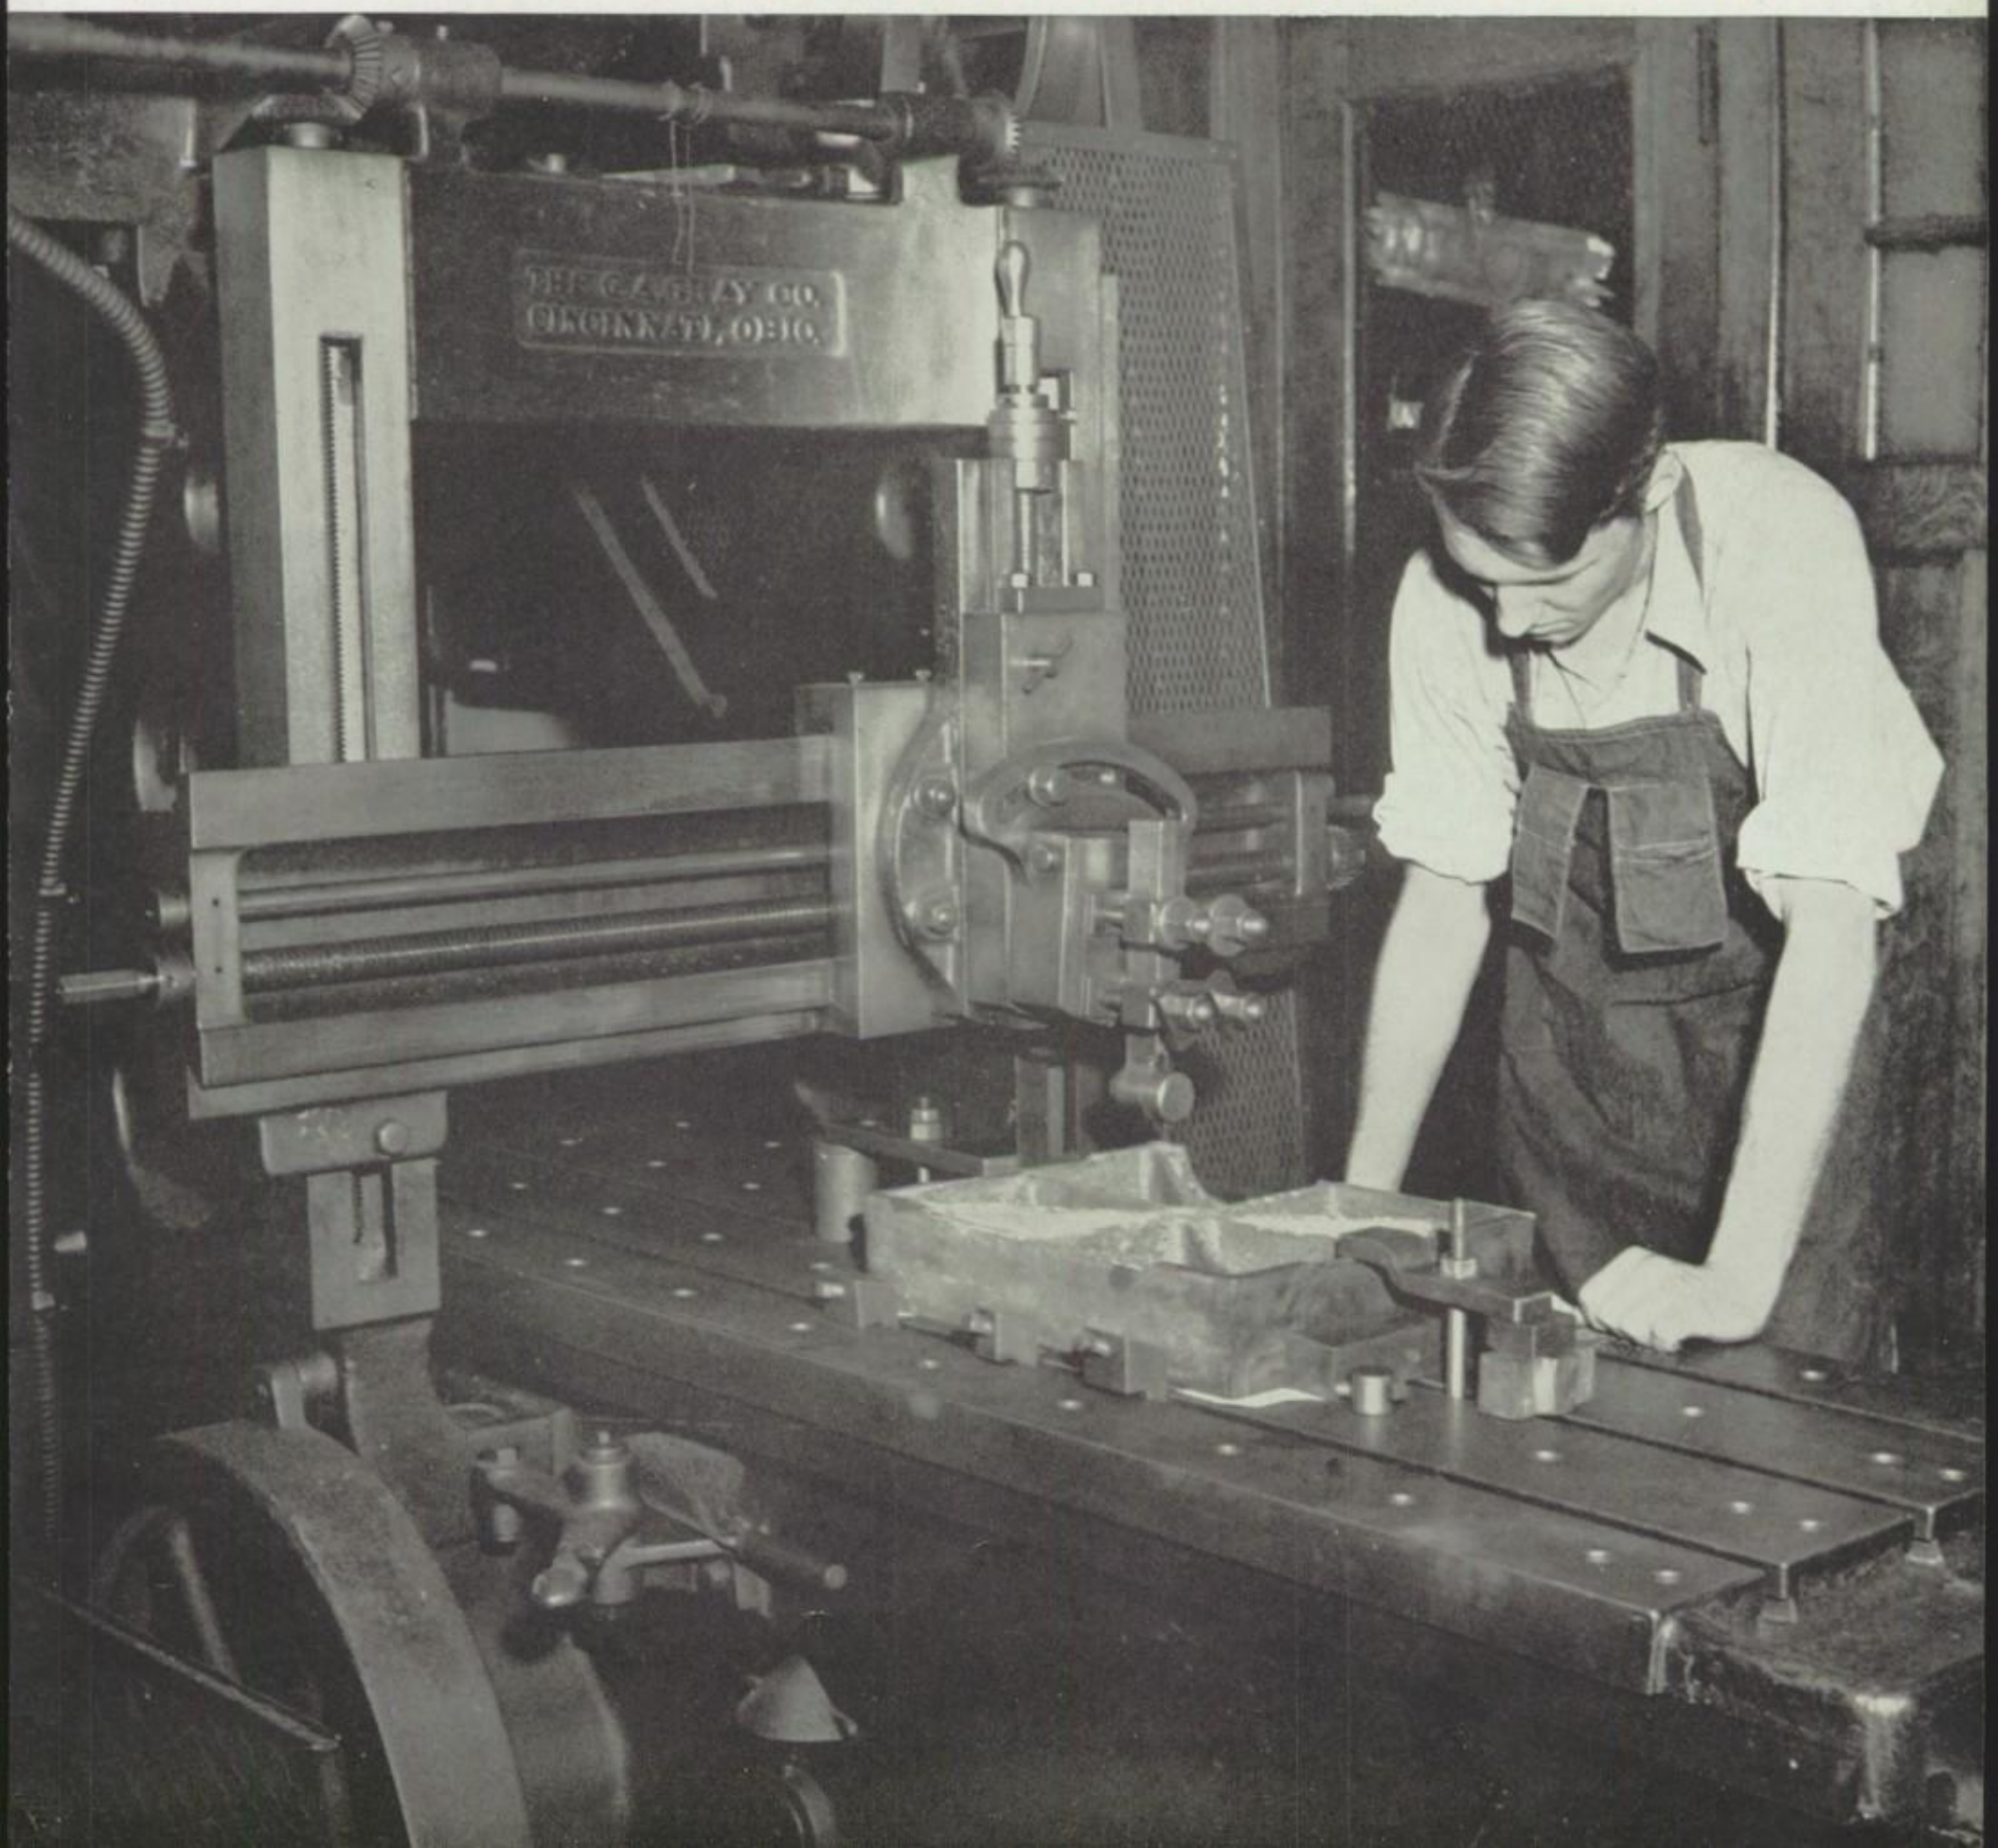
Getting ready for winter are gardeners Patty Muller, Joan Kelso, Bill Miller and Bob McGinnis as they place bulbs in a cold frame for storage. In February hyacinths and daffodils will blossom on the corridor window sills. Behind the workers is the Hughes greenhouse where botany students under the guidance of Miss Madeline Harris care for potted plants which are at intervals put on sale for take-home gifts, provide flowers for window sills and offices of the Big Red Schoolhouse, and pamper seedlings for home gardens.

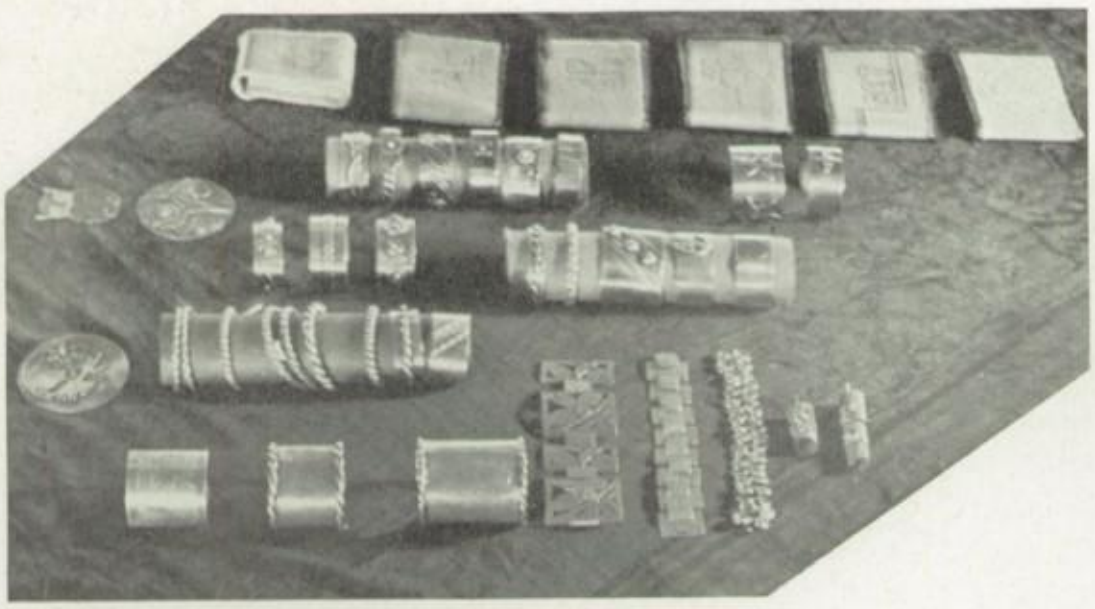
Harold Rothenberg is explaining balloting in proportional representation to his classmates in Miss Barnette's fifth period group. Interested listeners are Charles Rogers, Janet Fleming, Don Rudler and Madeline Fox. The group has visited the ballot count in the November election of members of City Council.

Strong bodies as well as sound minds—that's the keynote of the Hughes gym classes. To this end both boys and girls spend three periods in the gymnasiums weekly. Calisthenics, swimming, games, and other exercises build up strength and coordination of muscles. In addition to the regular course, all eleventh grade students have lessons in correct first aid procedure. A Red Cross First Aid Certificate is awarded to students successfully completing the course. This year, as well as in the past war years, older boys attended pre-induction classes taught by the physical education instructors. The two gymnasiums are busy centers of activity for healthy young Americans.

Books and pencils are replaced by lathes and planers in the metalworking classes. A complete machine shop takes its place alongside more orthodox classrooms, equipping boys for future vocations in the factory. In the picture we see Joe Woodburn operating a planer. The skill required to operate it and other types of machines is both complex and valuable. In a country famous for mass production of automobiles, airplanes, and refrigerators fellows like Joe find an outlet for their metal-working talents.

WE USE MUSCLE AND SKILL





SOME CREATE THE BEAUTIFUL

Articles of silver and leather, in display above, were made by pupils in Miss Gladys Dee Ervin's Arts and Crafts classes. Pins, bracelets, rings, barrettes, cigarette cases, and wallets were favorites among the craft students this year. Recently fashionable wide leather belts have become a popular project. This year Miss Ervin's Commercial Art IV class specialized in painting in oils. Both abstractions and realistic paintings were produced by the enthusiastic students. Portraits from life were attempted, but this new medium of expression proved to involve more difficulty than was anticipated.

As a war time project to use up scrap material, these grotesque animals were created by Mr. Elmer Porter's optional Art II classes. The figures are made of scrap wire, strips of newspaper, paste, tempora paint and shellac.

This is a project of the second year foods group in applied art. Each girl in the class planned a party arrangement, considering a limited budget which demanded the creation of "home made" invitations, centerpiece and other table decorations such as favors, place cards, carefully wrapped gifts or prizes, a service setting and a menu. Harmony in color and texture was carefully considered to create a pleasing and artistic unit of the party. The wedding party planned by Freda Young is being admired by Doris Hume. It was made under the direction of Miss Frances Adomeit.

Under the direction of Miss Helen Louise Stapleford, junior drama students presented "Cinderella."

JUNE BRINGS GRADUATION TO BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE

Today the Big Red Schoolhouse continues to make a great contribution to our community. Young men and women go from its doors into a world which requires education and understanding, awareness of others and a consciousness of better things to work for. The graduates of 1946 have inherited the challenging problem of maintaining peace in a new age—an atomic age. Many of the lads will have occupation duties with the Armed Services abroad. The idea of a free American way of life developed in the home and the Schoolhouse go abroad with them. All graduates face increased responsibility. The years in school will prove important in meeting the demands of a rapidly moving world. The community, the nation, all mankind call upon young blood to attack the solution of grave problems. The contribution of the Big Red Schoolhouse has been important in war; it must be greater in peace, a peace that must last.

Dear Bill,

Since I enlisted in the navy last year, a lot has happened. As I sit here writing this , I keep thinking of all the fun we had my freshman year — even though Hughes lost to Withrow in the double header. Burt Pease, was president of the senior class. The Sages presented the play "Copperhead". Bleep snow awaited that audience.

One (1) of the highlights of our sophomore year was the bond rally held at U.C. with Paul Henried, Greer Garson, Judy Garland, Mickey Rooney, and other glamorous movie stars. "Bonds a Poppin'" was a musical success. Stan Yuellig stole the show with his fine performance in "Babes in Toyland."

During the year 1944-45, Burr Freese was our choice for City Council. King Otis celebrated his birthday in great splendor on his last year of reign in 312. The race was quite close (4) senior class president with Bob Boeh receiving the majority of votes.

As I entered my senior year the world was again at peace. Bruce Arnold was our ambitious councilman from Hughes. School spirit was bubbling , over with more pep rallies and a pow-wow for the students. It was a thrilling event when Hughes beat our beloved (?) Withrow, but 'twas sad to know that it would be the last game between the 2 rivals coached by "Red" Kruek. Hughes organized a Student Council and the student body regretted the sudden resignations of Miss M. Julia Bentley and Mr. Atterman, our former principal.

Pigtail and Bow-tie Day brought 4th many orig- inal ideas, (from seniors only, of course!) "Cinderella in Loreland" was an ex- cellent play presented by the Sages.

The Senior Prom was simply dreamy and graduation was a mixture of white formals, dark suits, red roses, diplomas, and tears.

Well sailor, see if you can make it home soon.

We all miss you.

As Ever,

Carol Ann

P. S.

The Hughes Club celebrated its twenty — fifth birthday with a banquet at our own "Clifton Palace."

Taking a stroll through Burnet Woods are our class officers: Charles Meloy, treasurer, and Mary Alice Klappert, vice-president, standing; Doreen Lindemann, secretary, and Robert Boeh, president, seated.

THEY LEAD THE CLASS OF '46

The class of '46 journeyed through the first peacetime year a senior class had known in four years under the capable hands of the above senior class officers. They did a fine job of making our senior year the fullest, most enjoyable year of our high school life.

ORGANIZE FOR WORK, FUN AT BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE

Each individual student has his or her special whims. They like doing this or that. This individuality, so necessary in a democracy, is seeded, watered, and nurtured, through the many additional activities revolving about the Big Red Schoolhouse. Such activities take the form of clubs and special interest groups. Here is a frontier for students and school. More and more can be done through extracurricular activities. This year marked the introduction of several new activities at Hughes. The Student Council has been born. Additional music groups have grown up. A promising club on world affairs has taken shape. A revived Pep Club of over four hundred members has been active. These and the many other groups of long standing have opened new vistas of pleasure to the student. They have lent color, variety, and beauty to the Schoolhouse. Carols at Christmas, dramatic productions on the school stage, the school year book, the weekly newspaper, debates, discussions, and festivals have become an integral part of life in the Big Red Schoolhouse.

In a year that was featured by new precedents, one of the most important and successful firsts was the inauguration of a form of student government. Born in the brains of a formative body, the Student Council swung into action with the election of officers. Stanley Cohen became the first President. The Council soon acquired authority as it set up a Student Court. The representatives resurrected the Art League, and bent their efforts towards a war memorial. Also, a Student Handbook was sponsored. These were but a few of the many projects under careful consideration.

Yes, everyone can solve 2 + 2, but it takes the fourth year mathematicians to solve $3x^4 + 2x^3 - 9x^2 + 3x - 27 = 0$. This year the Math Club under the able guidance of Mr. Clyde Hall, brought to its members lectures demonstrating how higher mathematics are involved in current topics.

Among the clubs at Hughes there is one that seems as stable as bread with every meal. Any Hughes boy is proud to be called a member of the Hughes Club. With the close of four years of war, the Hughes Club was able to celebrate its twenty-fifth anniversary just two years late. The banquet, attended by former principals Charles M. Merry and Charles Otterman, and by Mayor James G. Stewart, paid tribute to the Club's founder, Elmer W. Kizer, now principal at Hughes. The first peacetime year also made again possible a rollicking trip to Brown County for a weekend in May.

They say the Arabs first invented the game of chess many centuries ago. From there it somehow managed to find its way to this high school where the Hughes Chess Club holds forth in weekly meetings. This year's members again found themselves battling against Walnut Hills, the traditional rival of the Huzites. In addition to outside tournaments, a constant competition among fellow club members was kept up all year. Mr. Doherty is the faculty sponsor.

To do the thing I know is true,
And would not be ashamed to do.
To try to make some other see
The thing that so appeals to me.

The officers of Honor League are, standing, Jean Petrocelli, treasurer; Fay Krausser, vice-president; Marie Mayer, president; and Shirlee Green, secretary. The executive committee includes also Janet Schaffner, Esther Wilzbach, Jeanne Kietzmann, and Ruth Hemmert who are seated on the steps.

"TO DO THE THING THAT'S TRUE"

Giving out information as part of their duty as senior girls are Thelma Williams and Esther Wilzbach. These girls belong to the Honor League and along with other seniors they give up their study hall periods in order to be of service to newcomers in the school.

Honor League, a society for all senior girls, began its eventful year under the new leadership of Miss Fink assisted by Miss Busch, since Miss M. J. Bentley, past adviser, had retired. The club prepared baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas for needy families, collected sales tax stamps, and knitted an afghan.

The most important duty of the senior girls in Honor League is that of Freshies' Aide. Forty-nine girls who were chosen during the summer received on the opening day of school their arm bands and stations. These girls were at their stations faithfully for the first two weeks of school, giving information to the wondering freshmen as to where the free elevator was and what was the shortest cut from the third floor to the sub-basement. Lucille Herweh is shown across at the right, lending a helping hand to a freshman bewildered by his new schedule.

INSTRUMENTS, VOICES BLEND

From the airy tower of Hughes one may often hear melodious strains filtering through the air. It is the Hughes Symphony Orchestra rehearsing for their diversified programs. This year they provided a lovely atmosphere for many auditorium sessions and dramatic performances, gave an impressive memorial concert, a spring concert, and had a part in commencement. They are a happy group under their director, Mr. John Molnar.

A group of eighty to one hundred voices, chosen from junior and senior students by their inspiring director, Mr. John Molnar, forms the A Cappella Choir, a music organization in a class by itself. To hear these choristers unaccompanied shading from the softest pianissimos to the loudest fortissimos is heaven itself. Not only do they sing their enchanting and lilting melodies into the hearts of all Huzites, but they are in demand for many outside performances. The choir has appeared on the radio, at various churches, in school auditoriums, and before many crowds of music lovers. The Christmas season was completed by the combination of the glee clubs and the choirs singing selections from Handel's "Messiah." A radio program was also on the calendar around the Yuetide season. The big event of the year was their appearance with the other high school choirs of the city, in a concert with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra. Easter brought another auditorium program in which the choir presented a fine group of spiritual songs. All of the musical groups at Hughes participated in a concert in April.

Mr. John Molnar directs the senior choir, the orchestra and other choral groups at Hughes.

MELODY IS IN THEIR HEARTS

SENIOR CHOIR

LAST ROW: E. Bose, T. Montgomery, H. Simkin, A. Harbrecht, D. Riegert, W. Mayer, D. Milligan, J. Heltman, J. Christos, N. Bradley, E. Drifmeyer, E. Bernhardt, G. Cairns. THIRD ROW: J. Curren, C. A special feature of the choir is the Madrigal Singers, a selected group of ten voices. This year those included: Sopranos—Barbara Kincaid, Alene Kincaid, Barbara Neuman, Lois Serena; Altos—Mary Wells, Mary Tarin; Tenors—LeRoy Tozzer, Ray Garber; Basses—Don Rudler, Bob Kutzleb. An entirely new group was established this year, the Triple Trio. This was a group of girls chosen from the regular choir. They included First Sopranos—Blanche Pfriem, Zona Strietlemeyer, Billie Brill; Second Sopranos—Virginia Buehren, Mary Alice Klappert, Alice Ward, Sue Benham; Altos—Esther Wilzbach, Dorothy Drischol, Dorothy Ahrens. Garbed in black robes and red stoles, the A Cappella Choir of 1945-1946 gave everyone their finest performances and set a new height of musical achievement in the high schools.

The flash of red uniforms against a green gridiron, twirling batons, and high-stepping drum majorettes are trademarks of the Hughes band under the direction of Mr. Rea W. Brown. This fall found its musicians starting off the season with the first pep rally where school songs and the band yells were brought out for another year. Soon a pow-wow before the 25th annual Hughes-Withrow pigskin classic found the band vying for attention with a huge bonfire. The half-time period of that game saw players form a tepee while drum majorettes staged an Indian war dance for the Big Reds, then swung into a cat formation with a twitching tail in honor of the Tigers. National Fire Prevention Week found the band taking part in ceremonies on Fountain Square. The music-makers serenaded the mayor, fire chief, and other civic officials. Various school assemblies found the band displaying its talents. A spring concert and special band assembly were presented as a time-honored feature of the Hughes musical department. An innovation this year was a band festival presented by all the city high school bands in May. Each of the seven bands played two numbers and then massed for the closing climax. Supplementing the regular band of some seventy odd pieces is the junior band. This group was originated last year by Mr. Brown. Its members supplement their big-brother organization, and are ready to step into any vacancies created by graduation or other circumstances.

Do-re-mi-re-do! Ah-ah-ah-ah-ah! Now one may hear a rich melody down in the bass, now a chorus of heavenly voices. Yes, you have guessed. It is Hughes' various Glee Clubs and choirs practicing under the direction of two top instructors, Mr. Rea W. Brown and Mr. John Molnar who are training the students not only to give pleasure to others, but to derive from music pleasure for themselves. These choristers were presented Parents' Night, in the never-to-be-forgotten Halleluja Chorus at Christmas, and in the Spring Concert.

Assembling once a month under the guidance of the Latin department to study and enjoy Latin outside the classroom are members of that language club. A special occasion for Latin students this year was the celebration of state-wide Latin Week wherein a play and a reception in the school auditorium were prepared for parents. Highlights of the monthly programs have been guest speakers, seasonal parties, games, puzzles, and old Latin ghost stories. Miss Fink and Miss Busch are faculty advisers.

STANDING: J. Friedman, R. Liebert, A. Kaladow, L. Goldfarb, B. Brown, D. Enderson, S. Kravetz.
SEATED: H. Goldberg, R. Mattson, C. Wolf, P. Roehm, R. Sloan, H. Rothenberg.

"The meeting will please come to order," another monthly meeting of the Parlators, Hughes debating and speech club, is underway. Features of this group are the awarding of letters based on a point system, an original club pin, and monthly intramural debates. This year the Parlators, under the direction of Mrs. Enolia Heile, joined the Greater Cincinnati Speech League, a connection which made possible two important speech tournaments, and the scheduling of debates for an entire year in advance. Members who participated in five Junior Town Meetings of the Air are Alan Siebler, Stanley Cohen, Jean Petrocelli, Bruce Arnold and Gladys Jennewein.

Le Cercle Francais, The French Club, has been able to send supplies overseas to war-torn France, and has received letters from many thankful persons. Colonel Armand Hopkins, '20, was the outstanding speaker of the year as he told of his life as a French teacher at West Point and his recent war experiences as a prisoner of the Japanese. Other programs consisted of games, songs and stories. The annual picnic, held in Burnet Woods, ended a very successful year of French Club activities under the helpful guidance of the faculty adviser, Miss Louise Bentley.

That "South of the Border" atmosphere is the rule at the monthly Spanish Club meetings, where the guys and gals of Hughes become señores and señoritas. Business is conducted in Spanish, with English translations for the less erudite members. Under the club sponsor, Mrs. Edna LeRoy, members enjoy games and other entertainment at meetings. At Christmas time the club sent baskets of food to needy families.

Spanish Club officers include (standing) Eve Schoch, corresponding secretary; Ellen Olmsted, vice-president; Bill Brown, sergeant-at-arms; (sitting) Joyce Nogen, president; Dorothy Berry, recording secretary; Jeanne Edgemon, treasurer.

German Club officers include (standing) Howard Kay, executive committee; William Leimberger, secretary; (seated) Frank Mayer, president; Phylis Perry, treasurer; Marion Zimmerman, vice-president.

The Salesmanship Club consists of three classes under the leadership of Miss Mary McSurely. The club took charge of several sales during the year. One of them, in which lapel bears and Christmas corsages were sold, enabled us to give a substantial sum to the Children's Hospital. The sale of personality as well as merchandise is a purpose of the practice sales sponsored by the Sales Club.

Officers of the big Sales Club include Ted Elkin, President; Ethelwyn Beck, Vice-President; Nita Carter, Recording Secretary; Regina Sloan, Corresponding Secretary; Molly Newstate, Treasurer.

SALES CLUB - PERSONALITY PLUS

The Christian Youth Fellowship is a student group organized this year. Under the guidance of two members of the faculty, Miss Elizabeth King and Miss Mary McSurely. They have invited to their meetings every two weeks well-known speakers to bring inspirational messages. Since its beginning the group has increased its membership.

"GARGOYLE" EDITORIAL BOARD
STANDING: E. Wilzbach; B. Kanter; S. Kravetz; J. Freyhof; G. Murphy, Sport Editor; C. Dolman, News Editor; R. Hemmert. SEATED: A. Rohan, City Editor; E. Olmsted; C. Deifel; Literary Editor; P. Roeham; W. Stutzman; H. Lewis, Feature Editor.

Junior journalists, amid a weekly welter of type rules, headlines, cuts, and galleys, produce "The Gargoyle." All the work on the school paper, except the actual printing, is done by the Huzite staff, under the able leadership of faculty's Miss Hazel Koppenhoefer. Editorial, business, and circulation groups combine to produce a regular Wednesday issue, featuring school news, sports, comics, and all the other waves of the fourth estate.

The work of the Sages this year included the programs for Sage meetings and three major productions under the direction of Miss Helen Louise Stapleford. The programs for meetings included outside speakers and work done by the students in three one-act plays: "Spring Scene," "Sir David Wears a Crown" and "Six Who Pass While the Lentils Boil."

The two Stewart Walker plays were done by the Junior Dramatics Classes. The three major productions were "Facing the Music," a farcical comedy, three performances of "Cinderella in Loreland," a fantasy which marked the opening of the Children's Theatre at Hughes, and "If I Were King," a romantic play dealing with the poet Francois Villon.

Thespian officers include, in the front row, Vice-President Lee Russell, President Kay Wickstorm, and Ethel Breithold who is Keeper of the Book. Behind them are Corresponding Secretary Art Harbrecht, Recording Secretary Bob Heidrich and Treasurer Garry Murphy.

Rejoicing that peace blessed the first edition of the Hughes Annual in five years, the Staff of '46 bent to their tasks, eager to make this book worthy of the momentuous times, the school, and the books of the past. From the golden days of early autumn to the vibrant days of spring, the Staff has planned and worked. The theme was one based on a tribute to all the schools through which have passed the men and women who have brought this nation through the most terrible war, preserving liberty and the hope for lasting peace. No small reason for the title of this book was the nickname of the Hughes athletic teams, the Big Reds. The theme progressed from a piquant pianissimo to a rising fortissimo, as layouts progressed from mere paper to pictures, cut and measured, and copy, typed and proofed. The Annual also proved to be a sign of the times. With reconversion, came better paper for the book. With continued shortages, film was a constant problem. With the strikes, came a flash bulb shortage in the heat of the basketball season. With the rising tide of prices, came a hike of two bits in the Annual's cost, which was necessary to continue the quality of a top flight book. Undoubtedly no one worked harder with the Staff than the capable faculty adviser, Miss Helen Tangeman. Mr. Clyde Hall, of the faculty, guided the Business Staff to equal the previous record breaking sale.

THIS BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE

Editors:
Sue Benham, Harold Goldberg

Ralph Denhart, profiting from two years of photography work for the yearbook, produced splendid shots with the click of the shutter. The dramatic section page photos, homeroom, activities, and sports pictures in this book attest his ability and hard work. Fay Krausser and Shirlee Green wielded rulers, paper-cutters, and paste day after day. Fay devised many layouts in the Classes and Activities sections, while Shirlee took especial pride and care in the pages of the Calendar. Kit Veser, art editor, worked out the cover design, the title page, and the pattern of schoolhouses throughout the book. Carol Montgomery devoted herself to the senior history pages, Thelma Williams and Stanley Cohen concentrated on the girls' and boys' athletic sections respectively. Esther Wilzbach and Joanne Smith were valuable in proofing copy. Ray Klein wrote the copy for many Class and Activities spreads. Betty Buckner and Jane Meyer handled all the typing chores. Many new aspects of Hughes went into the book. The student council, the classes for veterans which were the first in Cincinnati, the bonfire rally, and new clubs. A new printer and early deadlines awaited the book. Thus into the book went the life of Hughes. Through the presses it has rolled and returns to take its place in the life of Hughes beside the books of yesteryear.

Editor Harold Goldberg distinguished himself and brought honor to Hughes when his essay on "What the United States Navy Means to Me" won both city and state awards in the Navy League Contest.

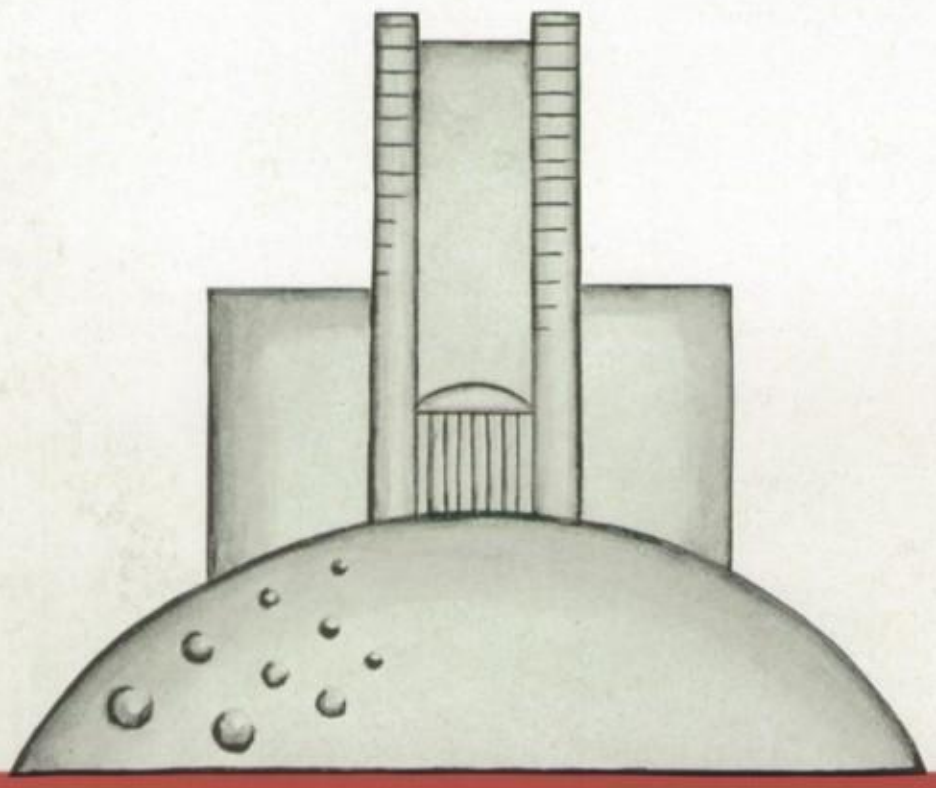
Everyday, during the fourth bell, Fay Krausser, Harold Goldberg, Shirlee Green, Margot Bumiller, LeRoy Tozzer and Sue Benham work diligently on the annual in Room 103 with Miss Tangeman.

THE BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE NURTURES UNDERCLASSMEN

Underclassmen offer to the Big Red Schoolhouse new and continued obligations. Entering for their first day, choosing programs, carrying through their four years a certain, definite plan are important items to student and school. To these underclassmen the Schoolhouse opens a wider field of interest, a new host of friends, and days long remembered. Students from different sections come together, compete for the same honors, cheer for the same team. Each morning from hundreds of homes they come. Evening finds each of them in his own home again. The underclassmen give the Schoolhouse continued youth and an opportunity to further its contribution to the world. The two blend to form a happy, useful way of life in the Big Red Schoolhouse.



Excited about their new Big Sisters are freshmen Ruth Lamy, Mitzi Wagner, Edna Mae Arnes, Elaine Francis, Betty Jo Wright, Barbara McKenzie, and Carolyn Angert.

A big day in the lives of the freshman girls at Hughes is the day of the "Big and Little" Sister party sponsored by Honor League. Every senior girl adopts one freshman girl as her "little sister." Marie Mayer, president of Honor League, is seen with her two new "sisters," Anita Evans and Helen Weavers. Some lifelong friendships have their beginning at this party, friendships that bring continued pleasure to both freshmen and seniors. The older girls have an opportunity to live over their freshman year vicariously by sharing the joys and and sorrows of their "little sisters."

"Mom, you haven't thrown away any papers that were under the cat's basket, have you? That's my Spanish home work." Such is one of many conversations held over the telephone in the outer office. The instrument cheerfully swallows the nickels and makes the rough spots smooth in many emergencies.

Don Noth, "proprietor" of the Hughes bookshop, offers his wide grin free of charge with every purchase. The door of the bookshop swings open bright and early every morning and Don is busy till the tardy bell rings. During lunch hour, Don is behind the counter again. During his spare minutes he lends his ear to his portable radio and to what "John's Other Life" has to say.

Jim Alexander and Bill Carroll are kept busy in the book room sorting texts and sending them to teachers as the need arises. Each boy devotes a period each day to this obligation.

HERE'S A BOY, A GIRL IS THERE

On the job throughout each day are the following boys who run the motion picture machine in Room 218, the room devoted to visual education. From left to right, Roger Sweeney, Allen Woodburn, Eddie Epstein, Bud Kallick, Albert Levison, and instructor, Mr. M. J. Doherty.

Drum Majorettes Ruth Kist and Jackie Jefferies were presented bouquets on the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Hughes-Wtihrow game.

THEY SET THE PACE FOR US

The cheerleaders are busy selling tickets for the Hamilton game.

WHEN DID THAT HAPPEN?

SEPTEMBER

4—Hughes opened wide its doors to eager freshmen, returning vets, and its new principal, Mr. Elmer Kizer.

5—Senior girls donned Freshies' Aide bands to direct the wandering freshmen.

11—First peacetime sale of defense stamps.

Mr. E. L. Jembey told the stories connected with some of his "sticks" in his interesting collection of canes. He offered a price to any student who would send in a cane with an interesting story behind it.

17—Mr. Smith, chairman of the speakers committee of the Sons of the American Revolution, spoke on "Constitution Day."

20—Students' lungs were exercised in the first pep rally of the year. The cheers were led by cheerleaders Jim Alexander, Bill Carroll, Is Fried, and Bruce Arnold.

JUNE

3—Honors were bestowed upon the "brains" of our class in our Class Day ceremonies.

3—The annuals arived. Are we proud of them!

14—In the grandeur of white dresses and dark suits, we said goodbye to four of the most wonderful years of our life in our beloved Red Schoolhouse.

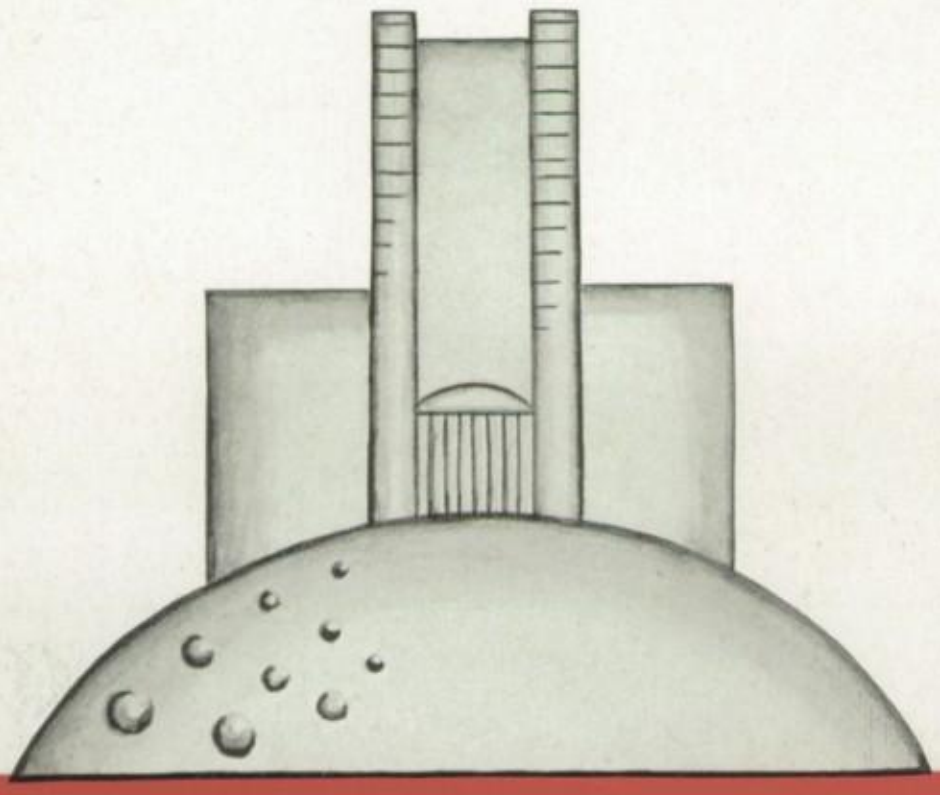
As Marie Mayer puts a jar of fruit in a Home Ec Club Christmas basket, Sue Kamerdiener smilingly helps.

Pupils in art classes decorated the front hall and set up a Christmas tree for the Yuletide.

WORK AND PLAY GO ON DAY BY DAY IN A BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE

THERE'S VIGOR AND SKILL IN A BIG RED SCHOOLHOUSE

To maintain the honored name of their Big Red Schoolhouse in athletics, the Big Reds battle on the gridiron, diamond, and court. A balance of brains and brawn, used to advantage, have made Hughes champion or contender in every sport. With sports, come friendly competition and rivalry colored by tradition. This year saw a new tradition begin in the great turnout for the first Bonfire Rally held before the twenty-fifth annual Hughes-Withrow football contest. There also came the news that Mr. Ed "Red" Krueck, whose name has been synonymous with Hughes football, was coaching his last Hughes team. "The Big Red Schoolhouse" dedicates the following sports section to the man who has given much of his life and skill to the boys of Hughes. It is hoped by all that he may regain the best of health.



On the field, season after season, "Red" Krueck (page opposite) worked with each Hughes team, his whole heart in each game. He turned out many winning teams; winners or losers his boys learned something more than football. "Red" has been Mr. Hughes to many.

Bill Peters drives in to make an earth-shaking tackle in the Purcell game head on.

DRIVING AHEAD, HITTING HARD,

Finishing second in the PHSL, the Big Reds of this year were a fighting aggregation of inexperienced boys that had everything a team needs but the breaks. They gained a priceless victory over Withrow, but not much more. During the course of the season they accumulated a record of three wins, six losses.

Comparatively, the Big Reds were very light, but they were also very fast. Their only need was experience, yet that alone was responsible for nearly all of their losses. Almost the entire team was composed of juniors, and when next year rolls around, Hughes should have one of the finest teams in the city.

Peters evades a block to bring down a Western Hills back a split second later.

BIG REDS STRIVE FOR SCHOOL

When the gun sounded opening the first game, Hughes rooters were treated to the fine performance of such stellar newcomers as Bill Peters, Jerry Wright, George Endres, and a host of others. It was Peters who carried the brunt of the Hughes attack, with Endres, Gausman, and Staub being bulwarks on the line.

This was Coach Krueck's last year, and the Withrow game was as fine a going away present as the team could give him. One other incident makes this year notable, and that is the innovation of a new tradition. From now on, the bon-fire before the Withrow game will be a Hughes institution.

HUGHES 7 — HAMILTON 19

A huge crowd turned out to see the season opener between the Big Reds of Hughes and the Big Blues of Hamilton. The first half was evenly divided. Although Hamilton scored on its first play from scrimmage, the Big Reds, undaunted, came back with a long drive, climaxed by a pass from Graff to Staub, for a tally. The Second half saw the Blues battle their way to a pair of scores.

HUGHES 0 — ST. XAVIER 6

In their renewal of grid relations, Hughes and St. X met in a highly publicized battle. For the lover of a tight game, it was a thriller. Both teams were handicapped by inexperience, and there were many fumbles. As the game was in its closing minutes, Hughes put on a spectacular drive that started in their own territory and carried all the way to Xavier's 13, stopped by the final gun.

HUGHES 14 — PURCELL 26

Playing against the top ranking team in the city, the Big Reds were not a match for Purcell. Hopelessly outclassed in the first half, they trailed by twenty points at the intermission. In the second half, The Big Reds outscored the Cavaliers 14-6, only too little and too late. The closing minutes of the game were highlighted by a fifteen yard scoring, run by Jerry Wright with very little interference.

HUGHES 6 — COVINGTON HOLMES 14

In their meeting with the Bulldogs under the lights, the Big Reds reversed the form they had shown previously, to the disappointment of their rooters. After leading 6-0 at the half, the Big Red attack stalled, and Holmes was able to score twice in the last half. The Bulldog offensive proved too tricky. The running of Bill Peters, and the passing of George Graff were the mainstays of the Red attack.

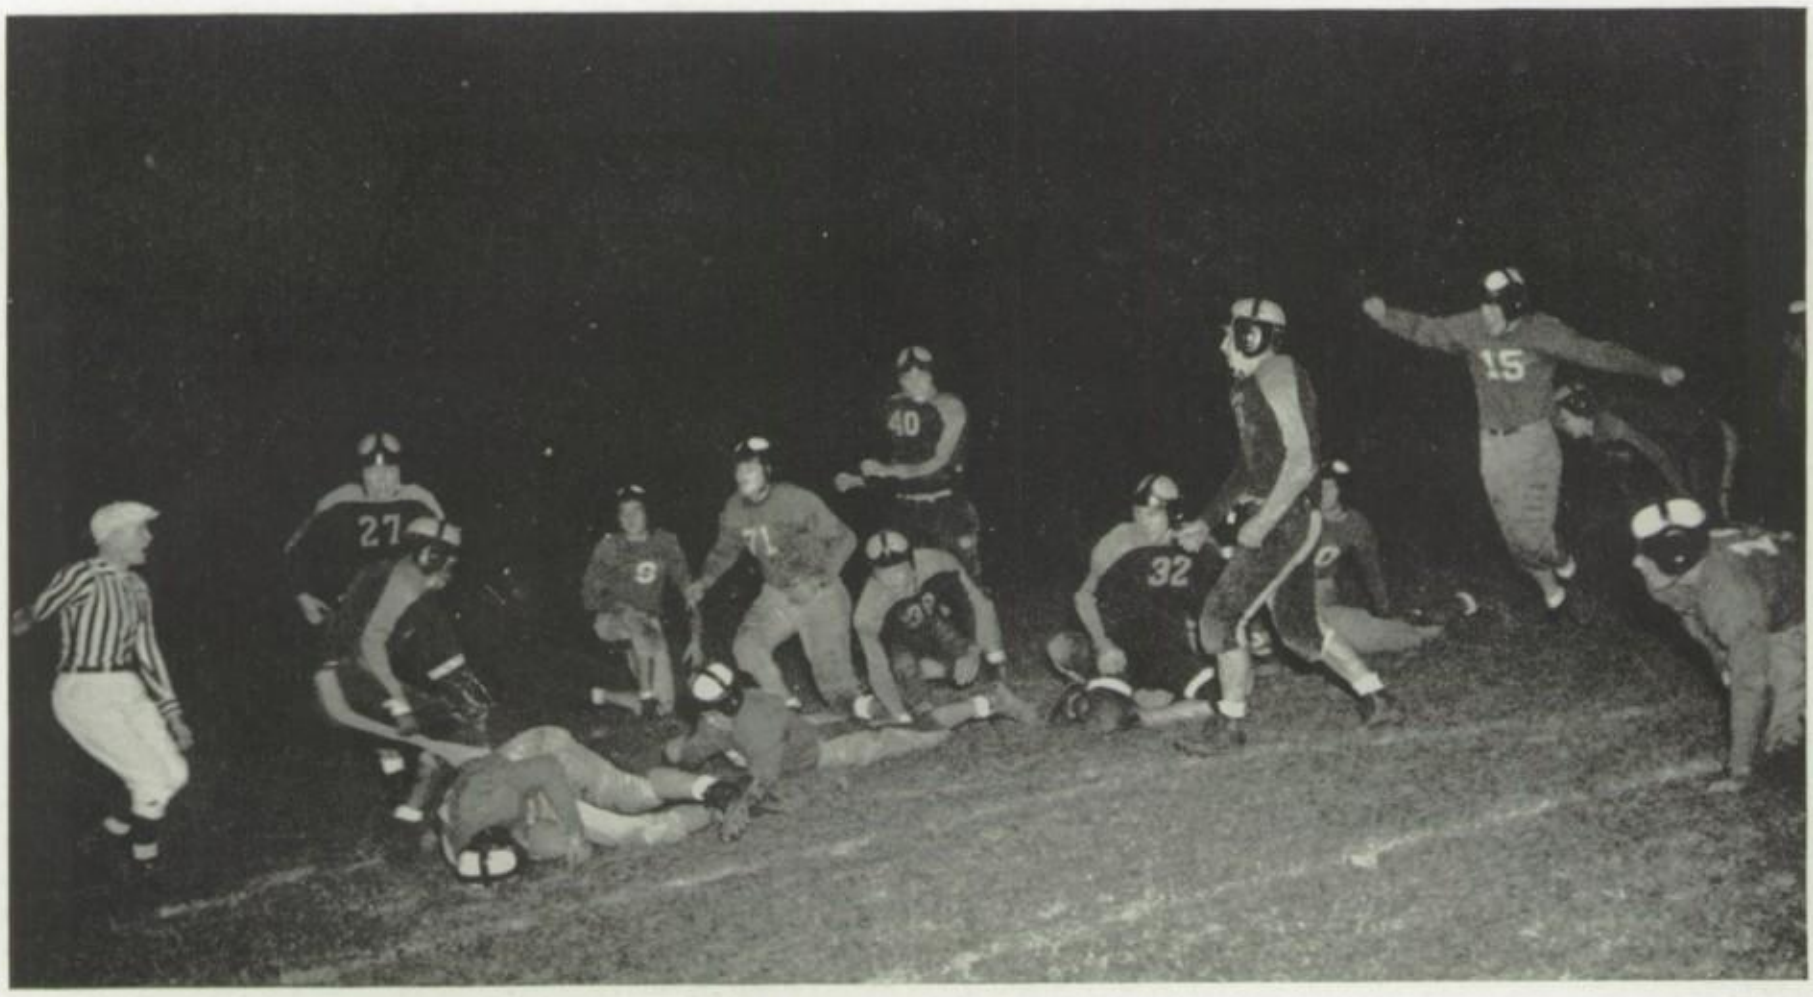
HUGHES 6 — ELDER 26

The driving power of the Panthers overwhelmed the Reds in a weird game that had impromptu officials, and saw the Hughes team arrive fifteen minutes late, because their bus had broken down. The flashy system used against Withrow so successfully was fuzzy at the edges, and the timing was off very often. The Panthers struck from a very effective single wing, using very little passing, but a lot of straight power.

HUGHES 43 — CENTRAL O

Hughes rode rough-shod over Central. Every man on the Hughes team saw action in the massacre, and almost everyone except the water boy carried the ball at one time or another. The climax of the game came when tackle Roy Evers took the ball, on a reverse and ran almost 40 yards, to score a touchdown. Even the last string substitutes were too strong defensively for the stingless Hornets.

THRILLS ABOUND IN EACH GAME



Peters registers a Hughes score, crashing through Tiger's forward wall.

BIG REDS WHIP TIGERS 21-7

For years to come, one event which will live in the memories of all who saw it occur, is Hughes' spectacular victory over a highly favored Withrow eleven in their twenty-fifth traditional classic, which took place October 20, 1945. On that night, eleven crimson-clad warriors rode the crest of fame, covering themselves with a glory which will remain alive as long as Hughes' tradition exists. On that night, a shining-eyed red-head crowned his twenty-nine years of coaching with a gem which will never lose its lustre, a work of art by a master, so near perfection, it might well become the goal which Hughes' teams of the future will strive to emulate.

Fifteen thousand voices cheered the Big Reds on in their quest for the precious victory. Under the guiding hand of Red Krueck, the team battling its way across the green turf was like an orchestra playing a beautiful concert, eleven men in perfect harmony, each an integral part of every movement, and the sound of their music drowned out the feeble roars of the hapless Tigers.

This was the game that Red Krueck had been gunning for. Every trick that the master mentor had in his repertoire came out that night to wreak havoc among the Tigers. Withrow was helpless. On the defense, the Big Reds were shifting shadows, here one minute, gone the next, bewildering the Tiger linemen, dizzying them with their shrewd and calculated antics. On the offense, they struck like super-charged lightning, for Red Krueck had wrought a miracle. In one week, he had given his team an entirely new set of plays, every one attesting to the genius of their inventor.

That was the story of Red Krueck's last Hughes-Withrow game.

Ferd Mechler, Right Guard

HUGHES 0 — WESTERN HILLS 13

In the game which decided the PHSL title, Hughes met the West Hi Maroons on a muddy turf which proved to be the deciding factor of the game. Hughes offense stalled completely, for it was very dependent on speed and sure-footing. West Hi's single wing was a power formation which proved very effective under the existing conditions. Both of their touchdowns came after sustained drives. The Big Reds gave all they had, but they were seriously handicapped by their lack of weight.

HUGHES 7 — WALNUT HILLS 0

To end their season with a victory, the Big Reds had the job of taking the Eagles into camp. They did, but only after a battle royal. Hughes' lone touchdown came when quarterback George Graff attempted a jump pass, but seeing no receiver, found an opening and went nine yards to pay dirt. Red rooters were given many scares, especially when the Eagles tried a tricky play in which their center carried the ball. Ralph Staub stopped him with a desperate flying tackle.

Straining ahead in the red shirts of Hughes, the cross-country team pounded out a season of five meets in which they finished no lower than third. Each of four meets saw a new Hughes sprinter lead his teammates over the mile and a half and two mile courses. In the final district meet, Dick Odenbeck placed fourth and led the Hughes men for the second consecutive contest. Running is fun.

Cross-country team reserves gave the varsity a rosy future as they ran up a season of firsts over all PHSL reserves. Eager interest in cross-country was shown last fall by the large turnout for the newly organized freshman teams. They ran in intramural contests. The three teams were ably coached and kept in the running by Mr. P. Richert.

The second game between Hughes and Walnut Hills clinched the title for the high-flying Eagles. Mathematically, the Big Reds still had a chance, but it was a hopeless case. Above, Jerry McCoy harries an Eagle, causing him to miss his shot in a tense moment of the game, as the others stand guard.

SHORT SQUAD TALL IN SPIRIT

This year, Hughes fielded a reserve team that contained not one veteran from last year. In their first few games, they looked it, but after becoming accustomed to each other, they played like wildcats. Had it not been for their slow start, they would have placed higher than second in their league, maybe even first.

The team behind the team behind the team is the Freshman Basketball squad, managed by Senior James Richter. In interscholastic competition the freshmen ended third in the PHSL. Next year these lads will shoot for a larger star, namely varsity, as new freshmen fill their shoes.

GYMNASTS SWING INTO FIRSTS

Culminating a decade of invincible supremacy in gymnastics, Hughes again retained the Public School League diadem. The senior team again displayed unbeatable superiority in defending their throne. Ever-toughening competition put the issue in doubt, as the other schools are becoming more and more adamant in their clamor for a new ruler.

Giant swings, tumbling, horses, kips, rope climbing are a few of the feats through which the Hughes Gym Team has gone with flying colors to annex their tenth consecutive championship year under the guiding genious of Coach Paul Richert. Hughes hit first in every meet this year. Walter Marble turned in a fine performance placing second in the all around gym meet. The reserve gym team placed second in three meets and came away from the Y.M.C.A. meet first.

SPLASHES HERALD RED MERMEN

Coach Alan Kindschy's Big Red Mermen splashed through a fairly successful season, coming in second to Walnut Hills in the PHSL Championship swim. The year was started off by trouncing Western Hills in the first dual meet. Withrow also bowed to the Huzites, who likewise turned in a resounding triumph by beating champion Walnut Hills with a one point margin. The Walnuts got their revenge by edging out Hughes for the league title. St. Xavier was responsible for the only dual meet dropped by the fellows. This was no disgrace, as the X-men went on to capture Southern District High School Swimming Meet. The Reds took a third place in that same event, which matched Purcell, Elder, Western Hills, Withrow, St. Xavier, Walnut Hills, and Hughes. The last event of the season saw the team traveling up to Columbus and the Ohio State University Natatorium. Here on March 2 the state wide Interscholastic Swimming Championship competition was held.

RED SWIMMERS POOL EFFORTS

Junior swimmers didn't have as stiff a schedule as their senior brothers. Three dual meets and the PHSL championship competition made up their total of encounters. Western Hills and Withrow bowed before the little Big Reds, while Walnut Hills scored a victory against them. The league races found them coming in third, one step behind the seniors. Junior swimmers did not participate in district or state meets.

The pins flew in the PHSL bowling. When the alleys cleared, Hughes emerged second for its second consecutive year. Western Hills led the league. Seventh in the league and leading all Hughes men was Bill Griffin. Hughes captured eighteen games. Close on the heels of the Big Reds was Central Vocational with seventeen wins. Roy Evers was Captain of this year's team which ran up a record of knocking down in official games 21, 328 pins.

1945 BASEBALL IN RETROSPECT

In his second year as Big Red baseball mentor, Coach Paul Bowers began laying the foundation for a championship team in the next few years. With a squad composed mostly of sophomores and juniors, the Red nine was hopelessly outclassed at first. After learning to play as a unit, however, the Hughes team bounced back to win their last five games, to give them second place in the PHSL. During the first round, Hughes lost to Withrow twice, and once to Central, Woodward, Walnut Hills, Purcell and Elder. In the second round, they came back to beat Western Hills twice, then to topple the Eagles, Bulldogs, and Hornets each once. The diamond squad was sparked by the pitching of three sophomores, Dave Werner, Ralph Beard, and Tom Jervis. In the infield, they were bolstered by the hitting and fielding of George Graff, Otto Elwert, Jim Chaliff, and freshman Bob Gittinger. Sophomore backstop Kenny Robinson hit his stride by mid-season. The only seniors on the squad were Captain Chuck Bittner, and Fred Krauth, who played left and right fields respectively. The center field was capably played by Don Mapes, a small but hard-hitting junior. Hughes may safely expect a diamond powerhouse in the next few years.

As press deadline arrived, the track team, built around four returning lettermen, is burning up the cinders in preparation for the 1946 season. Co-captains this year are Shiel Liscow and George Socol. Coach Paul Richert is in charge of the squad, but the field events are being supervised by Coach Paul Bowers. The only other lettermen besides Liscow and Socol are Roger Moore and Bob Gandenberger. Norbert Spira, sprinter, was with the team for a short while and then moved out of town. Although it is too early to make any predictions, Coach Richert has timed the runners with gratifying results.

Each year Coach Paul Richert is fresh with enthusiasm for his cross country, gym and track teams. His enthusiasm which also reaches the field of checkers has brought splendid results in everything undertaken.

Otto Elwert is always in the air for those hot liners that come his way over third base. This makes his third year on the varsity squad.

Coy Field, the grounds which would easily make a fine stadium, has been the scene of many a hard-fought baseball game. Here a Big Red slides for the sack.

Hughes' Big Red baseball team of this year should be one of the best this city has to offer. It is greatly strengthened by the return of nine lettermen, two of them pitchers. The only place the diamond squad is truly weak is in the outfield, but time alone will tell how great a weakness this really is. The Reds are being coached this year by Mr. Herman Guastini, who has returned from the battle-field to assume his former position on the baseball field. Captain for this year's squad is Otto Elwert, now playing for his third year on the team at the hot corner.

Mr. Herman Guastini, after more than two years of Army service including combat duty in the Pacific theater, returned to Hughes this year to take up where he left off in the Physical Education department. This year he enjoyed coaching the baseball team, a peaceful type of battling for the Big Reds.

Bob Boeh follows through on a wicked smash over the net. He and Ed Wagner are "old men" on the tennis team.

Coach Alan Kindschy had very few experienced racketmen to rely on this year as the 1946 Tennis Team prepared for its matches. The only lettermen from last year's team, which finished second in the PHSL, are Captain Bob Boeh, Ed Wagner, and Charles Goering. This year the High School Tennis Association was formed. Mr. Kindschy is president. The main aim of the organization which will schedule matches between all the schools in greater Cincinnati is to create greater interest and participation.

AND BATTLE ACROSS NET

HONOR GIRLS

The 1945 President of the Girls' Athletic Association, Elaine Fieler, receives the Honor Ring from Miss Violet Balastra, sponsor of the organization.

1941—Marjorie Hecker
1942—Stephanie Brezowski
1943—None
1944—Hilda Hartig
1945—Elaine Fieler
1946—To be announced

When the Big Red Schoolhouse is dismissed each day, members of the Girls' Athletic Association head for the gym to relax to the tune of bouncing basketballs, splashing swan dives, and tumbling ten pins. In these sports, and many others, G.A.A.'ers earn points, and with 400 points, become eligible for the emblem, the pin with 1000, and the letter with 1400 points. Activities, such as picnic-hikes, parties, and playdays come to an end with a banquet at which the awards are presented, the officers and sportsleaders for the following year are announced, and the most outstanding senior of G.A.A. is awarded the Honor Ring.

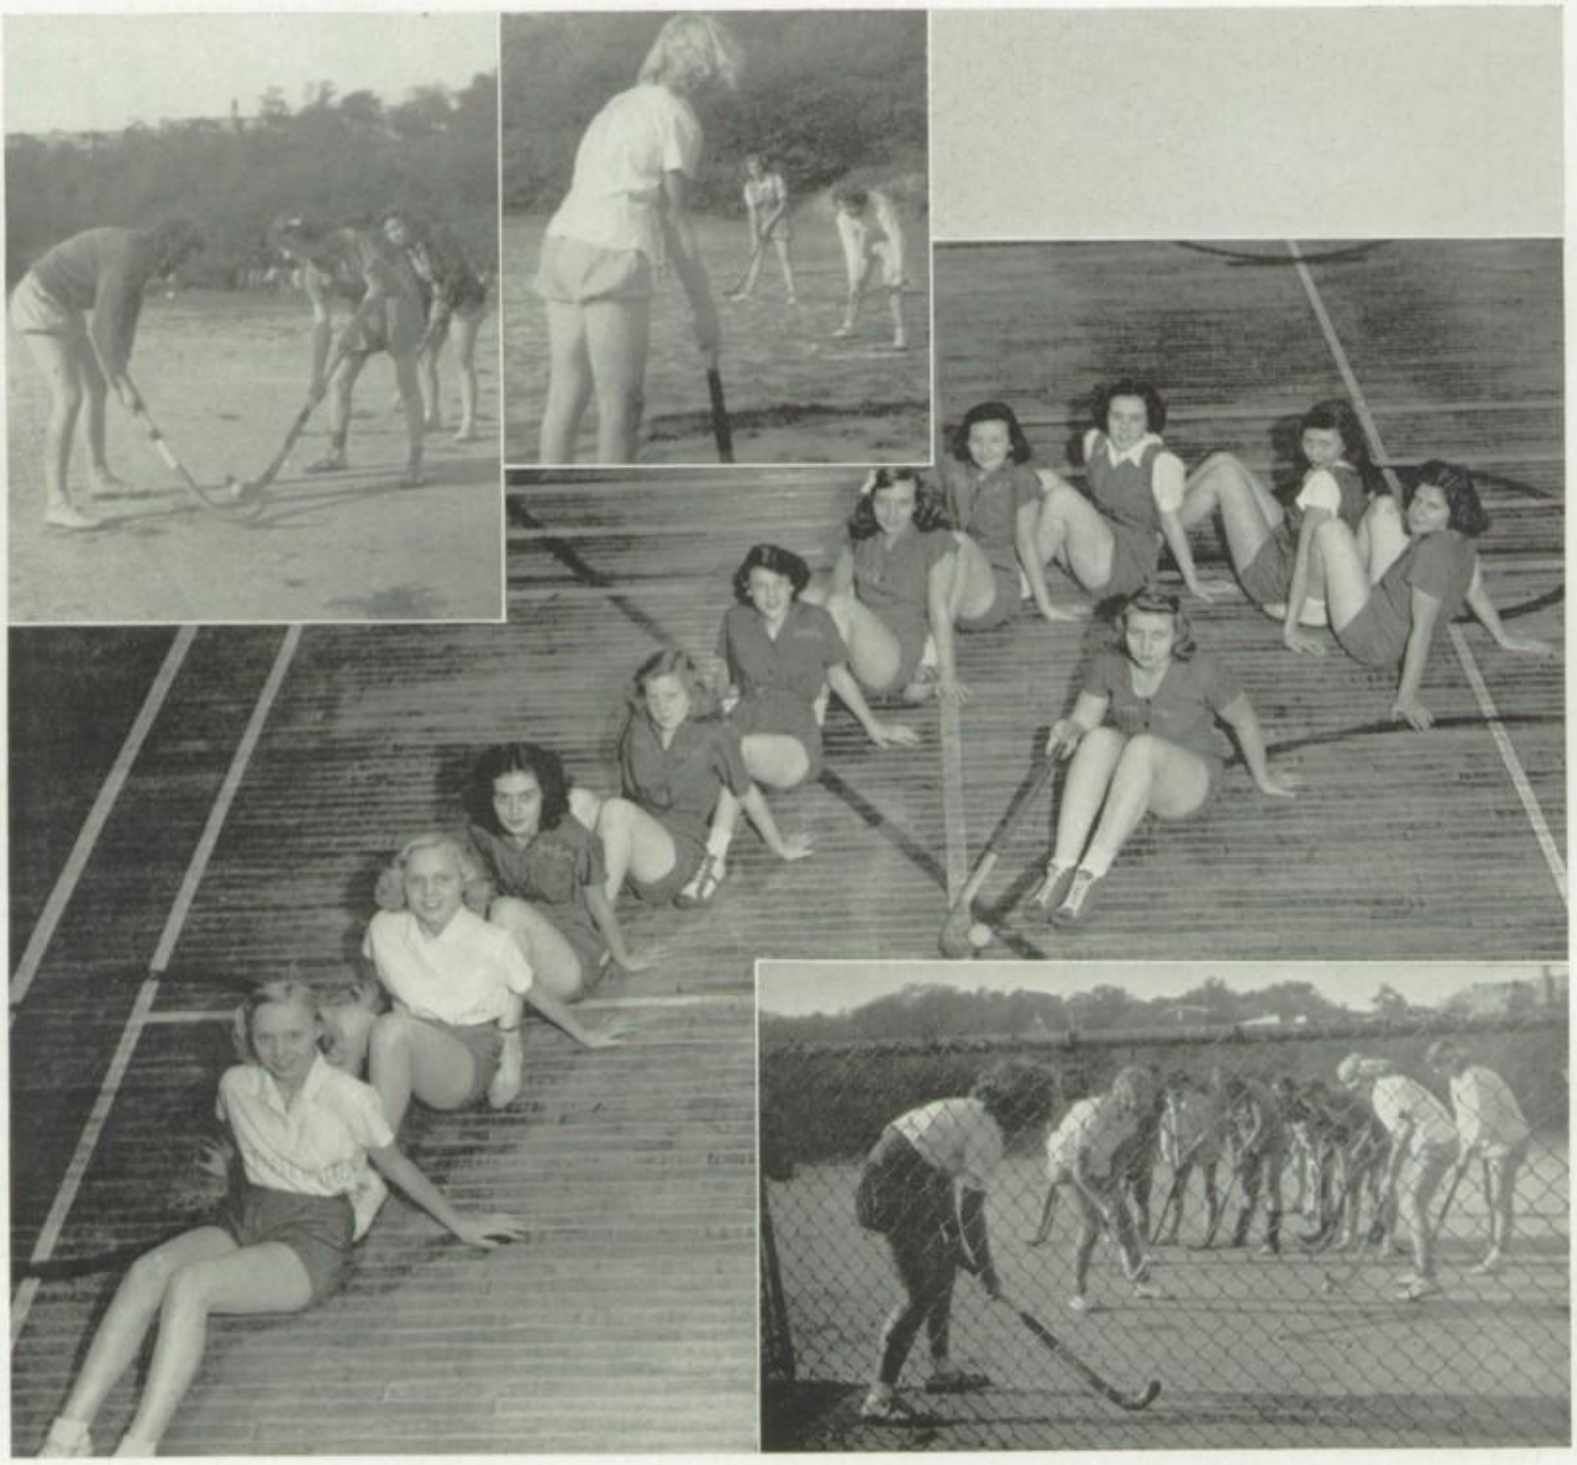
Officers of Girls' Athletic Association: Joyce Blettner, treasurer; Thelma Williams, president; Audrey Hecker, vice-president; Ruth Figg, secretary.

ENCOURAGES FAIR PLAY AND FUN

Those who give the leaders of G.A.A. the greatest lift in planning and carrying out their activities, and in toning their muscles for the sports early in the school year are the gym teachers. In addition to demanding physical exertion, about which nearly everyone complains, they assist in the annual examination of the juniors, develop tumbling and dancing exhibitions for special occasions, teach first aid and pre-induction courses. To the right are the instructors of Girls' Physical Education. Standing are Miss Maud Suter, Miss Elsa Kramer, Miss Jeannette Nurre; seated is Miss Violet Balastra.



Following shape of hockey stick from handle around to crook are Jean Thielmeyer, Janet Thielmeyer, J. Lubke, R. Welter, N. Brady, J. Theler, J. Burt, J. Blettner, J. Molloy, T. Williams, D. Bonomini.

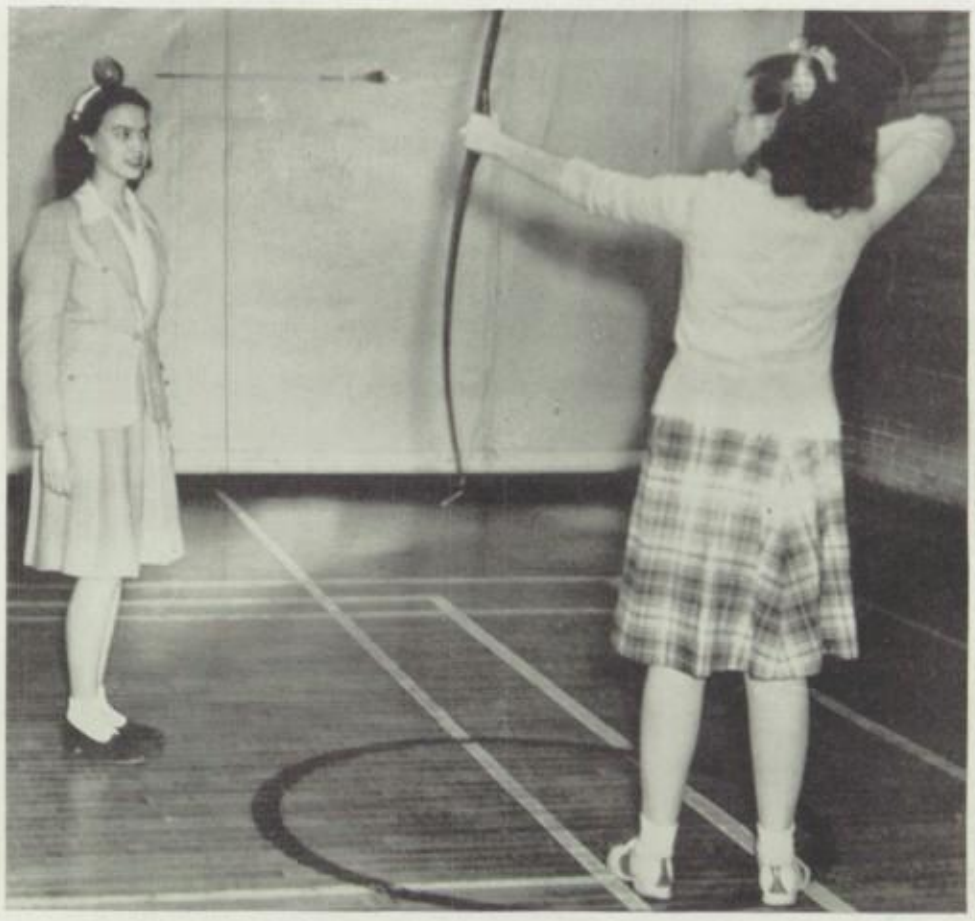
With hockey stick over shoulder and shin guards dangling from the crook of the stick, each member of hockey lightly and quickly reached Coy Field ready for action, clad in gym suit and sweat shirt. Later the same girls, with disheveled hair, aching shins, and tired limbs, chugged their way up the hill, dragging sticks and shin guards behind them; happy or sad, according to the outcome of the game, each wanted but one thing—rest.

Hockey sportleader, Dolores Bonomini, with the help of Miss Jeanette Nurre, the sponsor, and a few players from last year's team, taught the basic rules and fundamental technique to the beginners in this field. After everyone mastered dribbling, passing, and bullying, two teams were chosen with Joyce Blettner and Jacqueline Molloy as captains. These teams then played a series of games in order to acquire skill and cooperation for the coming Play Day and to determine which girls were "champs." The members of the forward line of winning team were Joyce Blettner, Mildred Kaiser, Joy Lubke, Janet Thielmeyer, Nancy Brady, Thelma Williams.

Hockey Play Day, when the six major high schools entered teams, was held at Walnut Hills High School. Each of Hughes' two teams played two games. The advanced team played Walnut Hills and won 3-0, and tied Woodward 0-0, while the beginners lost to Woodward with 1-0 and to Withrow with 2-1. At the close of the season an Honor Team was chosen by the vote of all the players but with a possible veto of the sportleader and sponsor. The members of this Honor Team represent skill, fair play and cooperation.

GOOD TIMES MAY MEAN BRUISES

Targets, bows, and arrows were one median through which girls could show their skill. Jackie Molloy, with sponsor Miss Jeannette Nurre supervising, planned the practices and the tournament which ended the season. Once a week the feminine "Robin Hoods" met together to be instructed in the techniques used with weapons made famous in legendary Sherwood Forest. The archers were in two groups ,beginners and advanced competing individually for the championship. Joyce Durban topped thirty other girls with a score of 57 to become champion of the beginners.



Maxine Wong, in the traditional apple-on-the-head pose, stands brave and unflinching before the oncoming arrow from Doris Jean Findley's bow.

ARCHERY GROUP

STANDING: J. Gilmer, Janet Thielmeyer, M. Kaiser, Jean Thielmeyer, D. Hume, V. Ortman, J. Burt, J. Blettner, M. Wong, KNEELING: J. Tharp, J. Taint, R. Hemmert, N. Kennedy, D. Bonomini, M. Schroeder, J. Judd, J. Lubke. SITTING: P. Lounsberry, N. Brady, J. Molloy, V. Hale, M. Gruner, R. Welter.

Most popular of the individual sports is ping-pong, which will make any ardent fan cross-eyed when two of the better players start a game. Champ of last year was Luella Huber, who graduated in '45. Two of the main contenders for this year's championship, Ruth Hemmert and Thelma Williams, show beginners Jean Thielmeyer, Nancy Brady, Janet Thielmeyer, and Mildred Kaiser how to hold the ball and paddle for service.

More strenuous than ping-pong, yet not requiring so much energy as tennis, is badminton. Lois Huenefeld took the singles last year, while Joan Miller and Elaine Fieler won the doubles championship. Mary Ann Socol demonstrates the several techniques to Jean Taint, Dorris Hume, Joyce Theler, Pat Royce, Janet Burt, who watch intently.

Included in the individual sports is a modified game of horseshoes. Topping all others in the tournament, Dolores Bonomini earned the title "Champion." Though rather close to the pegs, Gloria Menke, Gladys Jennewein, Helen Sawyer, and Joyce Hennel are ready to throw.

INDIVIDUAL AND TEAM SKILLS

VOLLEYBALL
BACK ROW: P. Royce, M. A. Socol, R. Hemmert, J. Burt, J. Theler, T. Williams, J. Hennel, G. Menke. FRONT ROW: J. Taint, R. Figg, J. Blettner, V. Cummins, P. Cooke, G. Jennewein, and H. Sawyer are members of last year's squad.

Whistles blowing, girls calling "Up and Over!", balls flying on three courts are enough to tell anyone that volleyball season is underway. Most freshmen know nothing of the game, and others are rather rusty, therefore the first days are spent on the fundamentals and rules. Color and class teams follow and are refereed by seniors, who have played previous years.

Used as a "get acquainted" activity in September, Kickball had a very short season which included only practices and one round of mixed team games, and class team games before the choosing of the Honor Team. This sport served its purpose and everyone had a grand time warming up for the other sports.

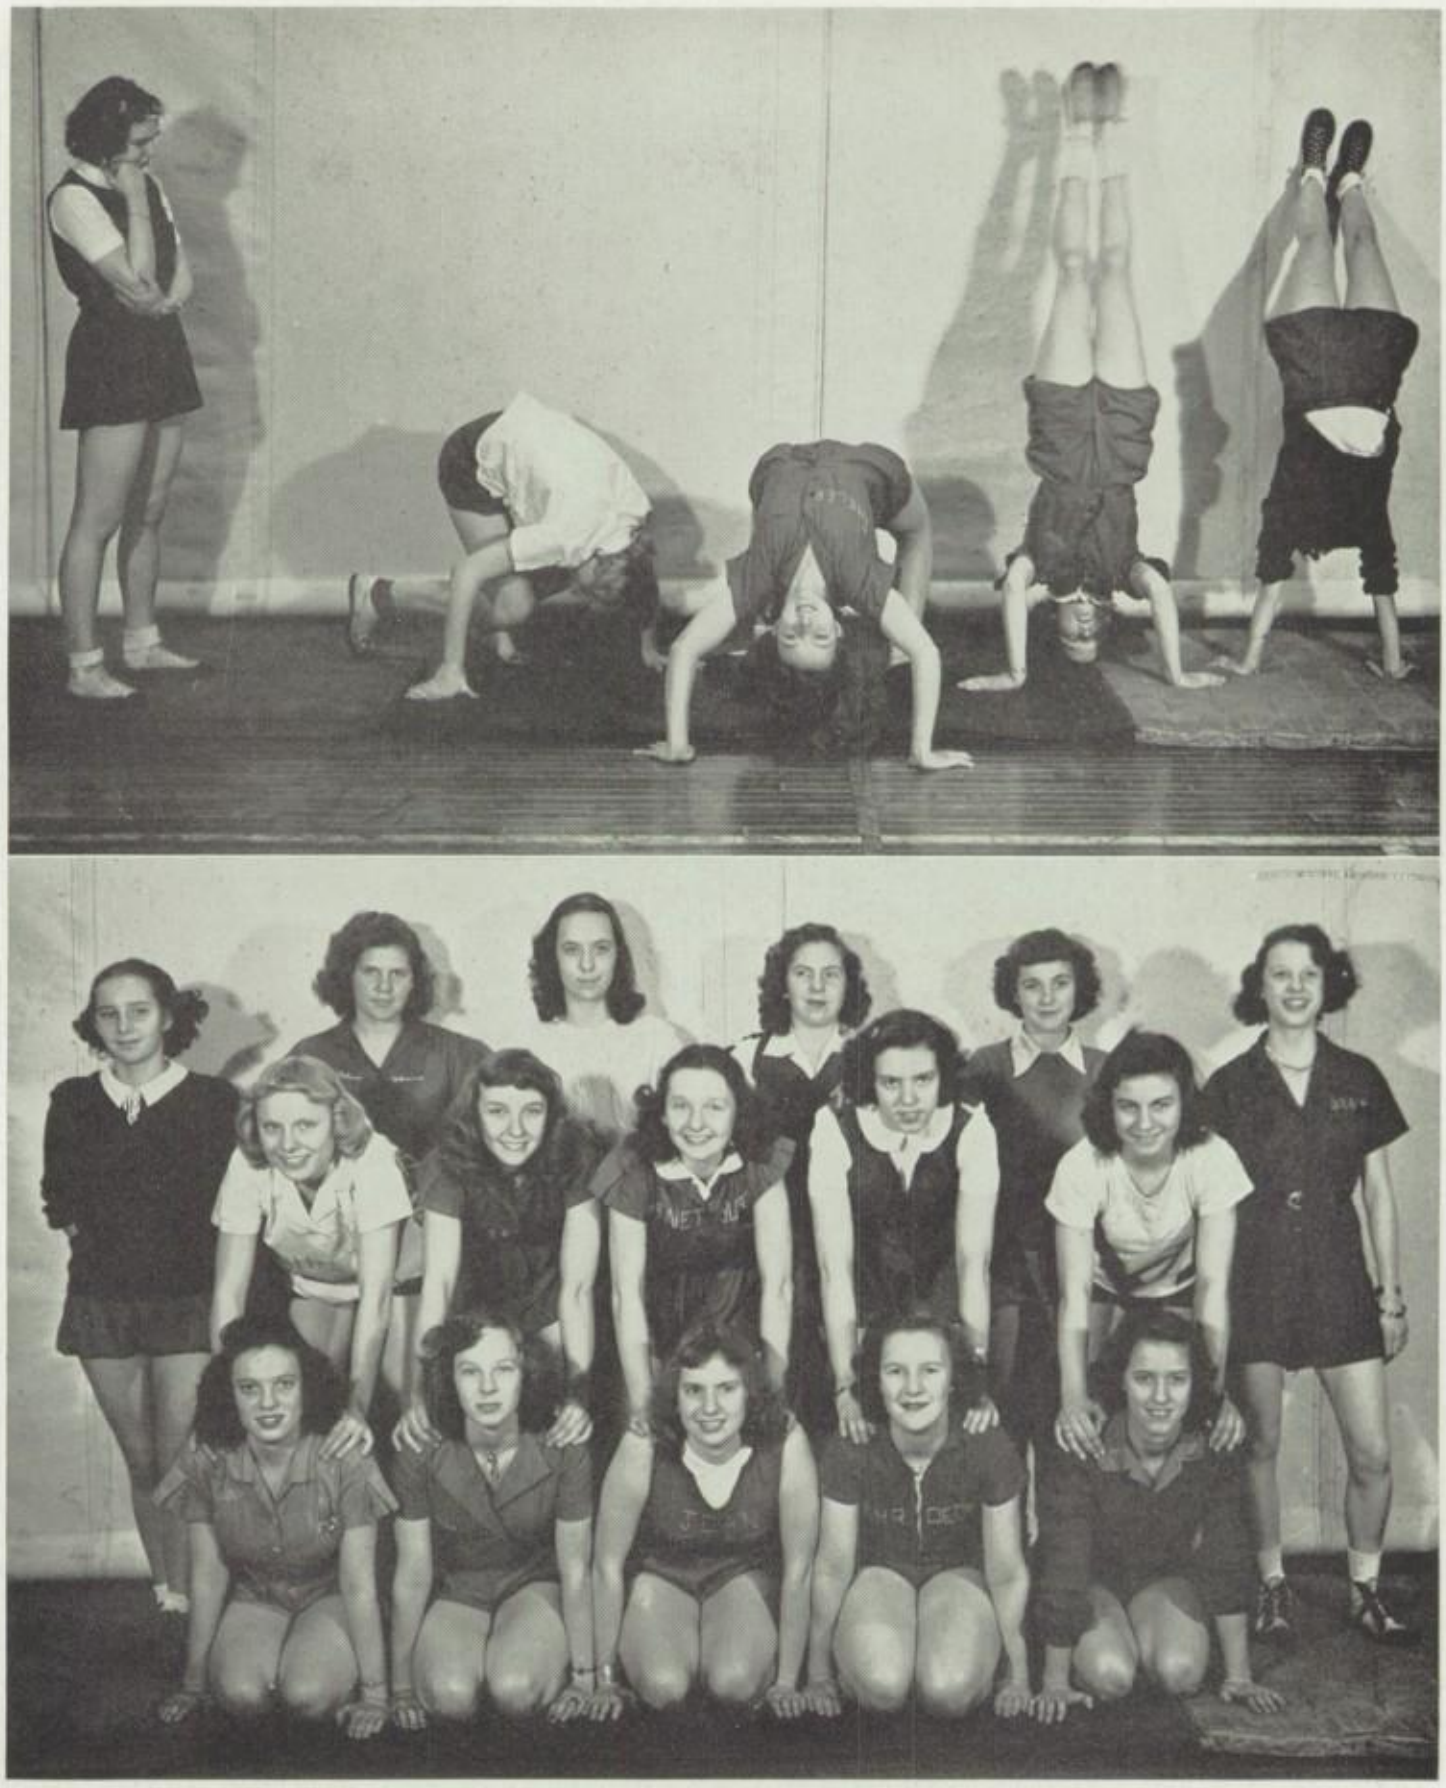
VITAL TO CHAMPIONS IN SPORTS

G.A.A. activities would be incomplete unless there was some type of dancing included in the program. Modern Dancing was chosen for this spot because it not only contributes to good muscle tone, but it also encourages and develops graceful movements of the arms and body. Rhythm is first set by Miss Nurre, the sponsor, and the girls have a chance to try original steps and movements. Then the ideas are put together and a dance is formed. Dorris Hume, the sportleader, took care of the attendance and helped with teaching the fundamental steps and techniques.

Early in spring girls who long for a luscious tan and others who desire skill become recruits for tennis matches. The advanced players compete individually in the tournament, usually on the courts at Coy Field, while the beginners play doubles in the gym. The schedules for the tournaments are arranged by the sportleader, Janet Burt, and Miss Nurre, the sponsor. As the white spots disappeared last year, spectators and fellow players greeted Ruth Hemmert as the new champ. In the beginners bracket, Sharon Roberts and Thelma Williams came out on top.

TENNIS GROUP
LAST ROW: G. Menke, V. Buehren, M. Bumiller, B. Brill, B. Abel, J. Burt, R. Hemmert, C. Otten, T. Williams. FIRST ROW: J. Hennel, M. A. Socol, P. Royce, R. Figg, J. Taint, J. Theler, D. Hume.

MODERN DANCING GROUP
Among the modern dancers are E. Wacksman, J. Thielmeyer, G. Reichert, D. Hume, P. Lounsberry, J. Dangle.



TUMBLING GROUP
LAST ROW: E. Bump, T. Williams, R. Neubacher, C. Hayes, D. Loesche, N. Brady. SECOND ROW: J. Thielmeyer, J. Theler, J. Burt, J. Blettner, M. Kaiser. FIRST ROW: V. Hale, B. Quisenberry, J. Taint, M. Shroeder, J. Hennel.

In tumbling action shown at top of page, Joyce Blettner is stumped when it comes to doing a front roll, backbend, head stand, or hand stand, which are expertly executed by Janet Thielmeyer, Joyce Theler, Janet Burt, and Evelyn Bump.

Tumbling, which was previously sponsored by Miss Balastra, was in new hands this year. A Hughes graduate of '43, Miss Dot Keininger, who is now majoring in Physical Education at the U.C., assisted by Miss Pat Kennedy, also of U.C., taught the girls tumbling, stunts, and pyramid building. Sport-leader Joyce Theler made out a chart of the different mat exercises which they accomplished through the year. With this chart each tumbler could check her own progress in gaining power, skill and balance. Many girls started this activity early in the year, but as the feats became more difficult, aching backs and sore muscles weeded out the less able. Among those who successfully completed all the techniques undertaken were Pat Lounsberry, Janet Thielmeyer, Janet Burt, and Joyce Theler.

The girls swimming are P. Lounsberry, E. Schmidt, R. Neubacher, J. Taint, B. Brill, J. Molloy, N. Crain, N. Brady.

Mermaid-in-chief, Elaine Schmidt, led the invasion of the boys' pool every Friday after school. There, under the supervision of Miss Nurre, the girls practiced the various strokes required in order to get the G.A.A. points in swimming, and prepared for the future events.

America's favorite sport is also a favorite of G.A.A. Under the leadership of Ruth Figg, during the 1944-45 season, twenty-eight girls participated in baseball competition. As the final strikes were called, an honor team was chosen. These leading girls were Pat Cooke, Thelma Williams, Elaine Fieler, Coleen Fite, Elaine Schmidt, Verna Cummins, Tressie Ellison, Sharon Roberts, Mary Ann Socol, Pat Royce, Nellie Johnson and Joy Lubke. The sportleader for '46 was Pat Cooke, but baseball was incomplete for the Annual.

Once more Frisco's was the scene of the Hughes Girls' Bowling Tournaments. Manager Garnet Waldren kept the records of the team and individual averages and totals. The final pin tally found the "Five Jeeps" in first place, Garnet Waldren champion with 132 as an average, Virginia Hale a close second with 131, and Thelma Williams third, averaging 128.

Shirley Einhorn demonstrates how to keep score in bowling. Blanche Pfriem and Shirley Theobald, already acquainted with that part of the sport, talk to Thelma Williams, captain of the "Five Jeeps." Garnet Waldren, inset, is a member of the winning team, and manager of the league that sponsors bowling at Hughes.

Riding Club, galloping into its second year, again met at Clearview Stables each week for instructions and experience in riding. This group is trying to augment its membership, hoping that next year there will be girls enough for a riding show at the close of the year.

Ready for a ride are V. Sloan, M. Lokonem, P. Bursiek, J. Jacobs, J. Jacobson, J. Shor, J. Burt.

BASKETBALL HONOR TEAM

Freshman	1	4

Pivots, feinting, dribbling, shooting and other techniques were practiced by many basketeers in order to learn the art of "getting-the-ball-into-the-basket-before-the-other-team." The climax of the season was Play Day at Walnut Hills where each of the three Hughes teams played two games. When the totals were posted, Hughes had won three games, and dropped three, breaking even.

Closing the season was a game between the boys' team and the girls' Honor team. After a hard fought game with first the boys ahead—and then the boys still ahead, the boys won. The girls admitted defeat. It was close with the score 49 to 11.

"CINCINNATI" . . . . for Engravings of Distinction

DISCRIMINATING buyers have always been explicit . . . they specify "Cincinnati Process" to be sure that they get superior engravings. The Year Book Staff exercised this care in selecting an official engraver and we have been gratified in our appointment. Serious application of engraving skill and of experience was applied to make the pages of this book memorable to all the students. In cooperation with the 1946 Year Book Staff we believe this aim has been achieved.

BETTER SERVICE FOR ALL

Good telephone service requires more than instruments, wires and central office equipment—more even than operators, linemen, engineers and installers . . . it also requires the thoughtful cooperation of the men, women and young people who use it. Short conversations, courteous sharing of party lines, being sure of your number before calling, and similar practices are essential to a good telephone service.

We in the telephone industry are constantly striving to provide a high quality system to serve the needs of our community, but the degree of satisfaction the service affords, depends much on how it is used.
